

Pom pon girls win place in parades

Two Farmington High School students will be marching in the "Disco World Parade" Dec. 29 and the "Citrus Bowl Parade New Year's Eve Day in Florida."

Linda Monge and Kelly Conway won their spots in the parade in competition with 1,000 pom pon girls who attended the Mid-America Pom Pon Camp this summer. A 75-member team coming from Michigan, Illinois and Indiana will make up the pom pon unit in the two parades. The team will be in Florida for a total of five days during their winter school break.

Writer's r's and b's really sing

Dear Ms. Green:

Here it's five weeks after hand surgery. The cast is off, I'm using my right hand very little, it should be none.

Can you decipher anything futuristic from handwriting?
Thanks.

M.D.,
Redford

Dear M.D.:

The large size of your rightward-leaning handwriting tells me that people play an important part in your life. You enjoy their attention and admiration. However, a seeming paradox presents itself in that you are also cautious and inhibited, often in social relationships.

Some inconstancy in the way you deal with others is also here (compressed writing with mostly wide spaces between words). Be assured we are all touched by some personal conflicts. But these conflicts always carry a measure of stress with them.

Security needs are strong. Possessions are important and there are so many things you want. Keeping up with the Joneses may also be important.

Can you decipher anything futuristic from handwriting?
Thanks once again!

IN YOUR relationships with others you tend to come on strong in an effort to make an impression. You rather enjoy having your own way. But are also willing to lend a helping hand and friendly smile when others need you. With close personal friends you are selective, choosing those whose interests are quite similar to your own.

With family and friends you are somewhat possessive. And may find it difficult to free yourself from a critical attitude. Impulsive, you sometimes act first and think later. Your feelings have a way of fluctuating rather quickly and you probably do not feel at ease discussing things when they are bothering you.

Busy and active, you enjoy freedom of movement. You would not like to be confined to small spaces. Shape of some r's and b's suggest you may enjoy singing.

IN SOME areas you feel you can do the job as well as or maybe better than others. And you seem resolved to accomplish what you set out to do. Most of your goals are set at a practical level. It is possible you may be doing too much at this particular time.

Some humor in your handwriting is a definite asset and helps you to put perspective into your daily living.

Incidentally, I cannot see or predict anything about the future. Graphology is a study of a person's personality. It is the expressive movement branch of psychology and is not part of the occult.

You may have your handwriting analysed by Lorene C. Green, a certified graphologist. Write to her at 26251 Schoolcraft, Livonia 48150. Please use a full sheet of white, unlined paper writing in the first person singular. Age, handedness and signature are all helpful. And feedback is always welcome.

St. Clare initiates "Mail-It" census

The Rev. Joseph A. Drogowski, pastor of St. Clare of Assisi Church, Farmington Hills, has announced the start of a new census program in the parish. Unlike traditional census programs that use door to door visitations, the census program at St. Clare's Church will be conducted entirely by mail.

Under this new system, called the "Mail-It" census materials will be sent to all households within the parish boundaries regardless of religious affiliation. Those area families that are Catholic will be asked to complete the census card and return it to the church at their earliest convenience.
