

There are beautiful views in many directions, even from the master bathroom, which is spa-ulous, but planned for convenience as well as luxury.

suburban area. A shopping area with a supermarket as anchor is under way about a mile from The Legends. Twelve Oaks Mall is a short run to the west and Orchard Lake with Hunters' Square and its plethora of restaurants and stores is three miles to the east.

Funk said plans are well under way for a second development of 42 condos on 23 acres on Drake between 13 and 14 Mile roads. The same team will be doing the planning — Alexander V. Bogaerts, architect; Jack Perlmutter, designer and consultant; Michael C. Powell, civil engineer; Austin S. Marshall, soils and construction engineer; Alice Stein, sales coordinator; and, of course, Jim and Marilyn Funk.

Price range is $185,500 to $195,000. For the completely finished lower level walk-out, add $26,000. Visiting hours are 1-6 p.m. every day but Thursday.

History in place

Although the Menlo Park Laboratory in Greenfield Village is now a hollow shell, stripped down to the bare walls and emptied of all but its history, a single chair remains firmly rooted in the middle of the room. Henry Ford had the chair pulled down where it stood after Thomas Edison, poised in the seat, re-enacted lighting the first successful incandescent light bulb on Oct. 21, 1879. The event was Light's Golden Jubilee, celebrating the 50th anniversary of the invention of the electric light and dedicating Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village as the Edison Institute.

In the 57 years since the dedication, millions of people have passed through the doors of the entire Menlo Park complex and restoration of the landmark has become necessary. Although repair work, which includes cleaning, painting and installing new heating and electrical systems, will continue into 1987, selected parts of the exhibit will remain open to the public.
