

Spacing suggests a new outlook

Dear Ms. Green:
I am very interested in graphology and in having my handwriting analyzed.
I enjoyed learning more about myself through different artistic expressions, such as handwriting.
I am right-handed and 27 years old and my writing has remained consistent in size over the years. I look forward to your reply.

graphology
Lorene Green

With great interest, I've read you could know that graphologists have been able to determine about their personality, and mine tells you. If some background is

Dear K.T.:
Marginal spacing such as yours, wide on the left side and narrow on the right, suggests you have left certain past experiences behind and are now moving into new vistas.
You tend to exercise control over yourself. And are ever aware of how others perceive you. Actions and attitudes are often monitored, making you careful of how you react, and what you say and what you display of your inner feelings.
Both pride and dignity are noted in your handwriting. You can handle details well. In all, you do you strive for precision and accuracy. The strong determination in your handwriting is an asset which helps you complete what you set out to accomplish. Still, fulfillment is not always forthcoming.

IN INTERPERSONAL relationships, you like to relate smoothly with others. You are caring and empathizing with others. Friction has a way of causing you to feel uncomfortable. And an active imagination can make you interesting company.

Usually you have a practical approach to life and living. Still there are a few areas where you may not always face reality.
Early life appears to have been spent in a home where guidance was somewhat strict. The male authority figure may not have been all that you desired.
Often busy and involved, you need to stop and take inventory occasionally to be sure you are not taking on more than you can comfortably handle.
Readers may have their handwriting analyzed by Lorene C. Green, a certified graphologist. Write to her at 36251 Schoolcraft, Livonia 48150. Please use a full sheet of white unlined paper writing in the first person singular. Age, handedness and signature are all helpful. And feedback is always welcome.

Openings available

Michigan Ballet Theatre has openings in both its performing and apprentice companies for male and female dancers who want to audition Sunday, Sept. 14. Dancers performing in "Through the Gate" last season are Jennifer Anderson (standing from left), Mindy Marx and Christina Schwark. On the floor are Stephanie Dexter and Meredith Belling. Marx is a Farmington Hills resident and Belling is from Farmington. Newcomers will be working on a full-length production of "Nutcracker Ballet" to be performed during the holiday season. Audition inquiries are taken by calling the theater at 624-5590, or 689-9444.

Pom pon girls score Free orientation offered to dieters

Harrison High School's Pom Pon Squad spent four days in competition in Badgerette Pom Pon Camp and came home with four trophies and one plaque.

The squad took a first place trophy for its overall performance in the Class AA Division; a first place trophy in the "super steps" competition; and another first place trophy for "best squad showmanship."

The squad placed third in competing with 18 other squads for "best original performance routine" and was given a plaque for winning the "Sunshine Squad" award.

The clinic has been in operation since November, 1985, and offers a comprehensive program involving educators of its patients, in cooperation with Health Management Resources, a nationwide program specializing in the treatment of high-risk obesity and its related health complications.

Women Aglow meet tonight

Farmington Chapter of Women Aglow meet at 8:45 tonight in Sweden House, 31530 Grand River. The chapter's monthly meetings are open to church women in surrounding areas without charge. Speaker for the evening is Glenyce Doorn, a teacher, missionary and evangelist.
The group will install Judy Haney as its president for the next term of office. Haney's vice president will be Toni Olson. Other incoming officers are Wyn Hartom, Kathy Warras and Mary Anspaugh.

Capitans for the squad are Sarah Kamos and Nancy Cantor. Squad advisor is Sue Leonard.

Medical Weight Management, a medically supervised weight management program, announces two free orientations at the Medical Weight Management Center, located at 24100 Drake Road, south of Grand River and north of Eight Mile.

The first will be given at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 9, the second at 11 a.m. Saturday, Sept. 13.
