VETERANS OF FOREIGN WARS AUXILIARY, Post 2269, was represented by Joan Simonson, Irene Johnson, Irene Hodebaugh and Ann Collet at the organization's Fifth District meeting late last week. Representatives of the 27 auxiliaries within the district were hosted by members of the Royal Oak VFW Post.

One of the guests at the meeting was Majorie Moore, senior vice president of the Department of Michigan VFW Ladies Auxiliary. The meeting served as a school of instruction for current and incoming chairwomen.

NOW (National Organization for Women), Western Wayne County Chapter, meets at 7:30 p.m. today in Emerson Junior High School, 20100 W. Chicago, Livonia.

The program will consist of a panel to discuss the scope and philosophy of three programs that provide services to the pregnant or sexually active adolescent.

Panel members are Pat Carney, a teen counselor from Wayne County Outreach Demonstration Project; Loretta David, director of Planned Parenthood; and Maria Rifat, a teacher for Pregnant Girl Program. Guests are invited at no charge. Inquiries are taken by calling 591-9344.

AMERICAN PRODUCTION AND INVENTORY CONTROL SOCIETY, a nationwide professional society with 700 members in the Detroit area, meets at 6 p.m. today in Vladimir's, Grand River west of Eight Mile.

After-dinner speaker is Roger Brooks. His topic is "Cycle Counting." Guests are invited to call 861-2220 for reservations. The society is dedicated to the improvement of production and inventory management.

HILL AND DALE GARDEN CLUB meets at 8 p.m. today in Farmington Hills Branch library. Program for the evening is called "A Finish-up Workshop." Members will be completing the boutique items that will go on sale during the club's fall luncheon and fashion show.

DAUGHTERS OF THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION (DAR) Quakertown Chapter begins the season with its new regent, Mrs. Michael J. Davis.

For the benefit of working members, the chapter has scheduled two meetings on a Saturday. The first is set for noon, Sept. 13, in the Farmington Hills home of Mrs. Clarence J. Collins. Mrs. Erwin W. Love will be co-hostess. The speaker is Martin Krohner of MADD (Mothers Against Drunk Driving).

The members will read the preamble to the U.S. Constitution and display proclamations signed by the mayors of the sister cities that declare Sept. 17-23 "Constitution Week."

The second Saturday meeting will be scheduled sometime in January when the chapter presents its DAR Good Citizen pins.

FARMINGTON AREA COMMUNITY WOMEN meets at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Sept. 15, in Farmington Community Center, Farmington Road north of 10 Mile. The meeting is open to all women in the community interested in learning about the workings of the service-oriented club.

FARMINGTON GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY meets at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 16, in Farmington Branch Library, State and Liberty streets.

The first meeting of the season carries a two-pronged program.

Leigh LaChapelle will speak to novices on "Beginning Genealogy," and a Farmington librarian will take the more advanced group of participants into the library's expanded history room for an orientation on how to use the materials there.

During an informal session, knowledgeable members will assist those with questions, and helpful books will be available.

Participants will also be able to get information regarding the Sesquicentennial Certificates that are being made available by the state for descendants of those pioneers who lived in Michigan prior to 1837, when it became a state.

An innovation this year is the society's "Query Board," which lists surnames that are being researched.

The society's president for the season is Walter Huard. Other incoming officers are Rachael McCormick, Zelma Dolph and Dorothy Ardison.

The meeting is open to all interested people.

FARMINGTON NEIGHBORS CLUB meets at 11:30 a.m. Wednesday, Sept. 17, in Glen Oaks Country Club.

Speaker for the afternoon is Sister Gilmory Martin of Mercy College. She will talk about health issues and living wills.

Guests are welcome to call for a reservation before Friday, Sept. 12. Reservations are taken by Jewel Bailey, 477-7169, or Barbara May, 471-6765.

EASTER SEAL SOCIETY of Oakland County hosts its 1986 annual meeting Wednesday, Sept. 17, in Ginopolis Restaurant, 12 Mile and Middlebelt.

Members will elect new members to the society's board of directors, its officers for the next fiscal year and delegates to the Easter Seal Convention.

Mrs. Michael J. Davis

tion. Awards will be presented.

'Transitions' offers career assistance

Individuals who need direction, support and career assistance will have an opportunity to participate in Oakland Community College's "Transitions" seminar this fall.

The free program is designed for displaced homemakers, divorced or separated women, single parents and people seeking employment in a non-traditional area.

Conducted in a workshop format, "Transitions" promotes idea-sharing and participation. Topics include self-awareness, goal definition, career exploration, job awareness, financial aid and planning, vocational training and tuition reimbursement.

The six two-hour workshops, which comprise the seminar, will begin the week of Sept. 15 at all four OCC campus locations.

"Persons who participate in the program offer support to one another," said Joyce Sachs, coordinator of the Auburn Hills program. "It is a place where they can begin to build self-confidence."

A tuition reimbursement program is also available to those who decide to enroll in vocational education classes at OCC, and who meet grant eligibility requirements.

Individuals who have already participated in OCC's "Transitions I" seminar may consider "Transitions II." This new six-week seminar is a continuation of the first series of workshops. It will place emphasis on self-assessment, job readiness, resume preparation and interviewing skills.

"Transitions II" will meet for the first time on the Orchard Ridge Campus at 10 a.m. Thursday, Sept. 18.

To register for "Transitions," contact the Orchard Ridge Campus program coordinator Joan Maloney at 471-7745.

Dolls for sale

"Doll Show and Sale" will run from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday in Robert Jones Hall, 25160 Outer Drive, Lincoln Park. Joyce Laskowski, a Farmington Hills resident, is vice president of Downriver Doll Artisan, sponsor of the show, and also a dresser of dolls.

The day includes a Reproduction Doll Competition, antiques, artists of reproduction dolls, teddy bears and doll related items. Door prizes will be given throughout the day and lunch is available.

Admission is $2.50 at the door. Children under 12 are admitted free. Laskowski will take calls of inquiry at 477-2822.

How to get best possible shave

Healthy, well-groomed skin is the result of an expert shave, according to the guiding dermatologists of Clinique's Skin Supplies for Men. And, they say, a well-wetted, well-lubricated beard area plus a sharp blade will give any man the best shave he's ever had. Based on these dermatologists' belief that "most men shave poorly," Clinique recommends the following tips for a more precise and closer shave that's also kind to skin:

• To soften the beard hair effectively, a hot towel or washcloth is the most efficient way (shower steam will help, too). The steam saturates the hair with moisture and makes skin more pliable. Well-wetted beard hair is a must preparation for a safe, long-lasting shave.

• To avoid razor burns and nicks, do not put too much pressure on the blade or try to remove the beard with one scraping. Instead, a man should be instructed to shave in light, short strokes and then repeat the shaving process. This will leave skin much smoother and less abused. Shaving irritations will be an experience of the past.

• To help prevent ingrown hair, you need regular exfoliation, morning and night. Ingrown hairs happen when the hair bends over, forms a

• To get a smoother, more even, longer-lasting shave, you'll find a shaving cream is most effective. It's full of rich lubricants instead of air bubbles, and a thin coating covers every beard-hair evenly. These lubricants are absorbed by the hair and make them stand up better — so the blade can clip them off closer to the skin's surface, catching every hair.

• To help prevent ingrown hair, you need regular exfoliation, morning and night. Ingrown hairs happen when the hair bends over, forms a

"U" and gets imbedded in the skin. Being imbedded, it becomes foreign matter, causing the skin around the hair follicle to inflame, look red, hurt — making it hard to shave around this area. How to exfoliate: Use the correct strength of a scrubbing lotion, then, as often as needed, get the added and most beneficial exfoliation of a facial scrub. Removing dead skin cells on the surface prevents hair from being held down and getting imbedded again. If the problem is severe, of course, a dermatologist should be consulted.
