

Park fence to halt 'cycles, vandals

Orion Oaks County Park will be fenced to stop vandalism by motorcyclists and trash dumpers.

"Better security and control of the park became an immediate priority for the parks and recreation commission," said Ralph Richard, manager of the nine-park system.

The commission, governing board of the park system, approved $124,000 for five miles of 6-foot-high, chain-link fence around the 927-acre park. It is to be installed by spring of 1987.

Boundaries of the park are Clarkston, Baldwin, Joslyn and Scripps roads in Orion Township.

Richard said there will be only pedestrian access to the park for hiking and fishing. Mostly likely, a gate will be located near Lake Sixteen, off Joslyn road.

Motorcyclists caused erosion damage, Richard said. Others dumped auto bodies and trash.

Orion Oaks was acquired in 1980 from Chrysler Corp. as part of a 2,300-acre purchase shared by the state, Oakland County and the township.

Development plans include camping, boating, fishing, hiking, nature study and cross country skiing.

DNR will restock 2 creeks

The state Department of Natural Resources today will hold public discussions of its plans to kill off and restock 10-mile portions of two area streams — Stony Creek and East Pond Creek.

Tonight's meeting begins at 7:30 p.m. in the Romeo Community Center, Crosswell Street west of Van Dyke.

"Brown trout will be stocked in both streams after treatment. Good to excellent trout angling should be available by mid-summer 1987," said DNR fisheries biologist Ron Splitter.

"THE PROJECT is aimed at improving trout fishing in the two waters. Competition from creek chubs, other minnow species, suckers and panfish has made management difficult.

"Both treatments will follow a pattern similar to the successful 1984 treatment of Paint Creek. The fish toxicant rotenone — which is not harmful to humans, animals, birds or plants — will be used," he said. Rotenone suffocates fish by constricting the gills.

"Stream sections to be treated include:

• "The 'designated trout stream' portion of East Pond Creek from East Mill Pond dam downstream 10 miles to its confluence with the North Branch Clinton River at 32 Mile Road.

• "Stony Creek from Lakeville Lake dam downstream 10 miles to Inwood Road.

"CHEMICAL detoxification will occur at the downstream sites of each project.

"Interested citizens — especially residents on the streams and anglers — are urged to attend," he said.
