Harrison marks homecoming

gan the annuar nomeocoming con-bration.

Preparations began last summer, when seniors picked the theme and dance decorations began taking shape, according to Harrison Assistant Principal David Poelke.

Students led up to Homecoming Day with Spirit Week, in which they celebrated a special theme each day, including College Day, Beach Day, Pajama Day, Toga Day and Colors Day.

On Friday, the school day was shortened to accommodate a Field

Day with egg tosses, and other competition between the classes — ultimately won by the sentors.
"It's an avtill lot of tun," Poelke said. "It's amazing how many students participate."
On Wednesday of Spirit Week, a traditional softball challenge from the senior girls to the junlor girls was accepted, with the junlors soundly defeating the Class of '87.

SATURDAY'S PARADE began at Beechview Elementary at 11 a.m. and included the two floats that tled for first place: the senior float held Snoopy, while the juniors carried Bugs Bunny along the parade route. The Homecoming Queen and her court rode in the parade in Corvettes; a crowning ceremony followed during the football game half-lowed during the football game haut-time.

Senlor Sarab Kamoo was crowned Homecoming Queen. Her court in-cluded Laura Barry and Amy Menk-en. Class representatives included freshman Amy Solomon, sophomore April Seeger and Junior Kaite Doil, all part of the court. The Court was selected by the students Oct. 8; the queen was picked Oct. 15, Poelke sald.

To make the day even brighter, Harrison's football team soundly defeated Walled Lake Western 38-3 on feated Walled Lake Western 38-3 on home turf.

The day ended with a Homecom-ing dance in the Harrison gymnasi-um, which also carried the "Car-teons and Characters" theme, Pecike added. He called the Home-coming turnout "good, marvelous; I'm so proud of them."
