

Awards dinner is in the works

The Metro Detroit State of Israel Bonds Professional Health Services Division will hold its annual Maimonides Awards Dinner at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 12, in the social hall of Adat Shalom Synagogue, Farmington Hills.

The division, representing physicians of several disciplines, will pay tribute to three doctors: William M. Leuchter, M.D., Sol Luft, D.P.M., and Myron Magen, D.O.

Dr. Arthur Leiberman, division chairman, announced that the three physicians will be recipients of the State of Israel Maimonides Awards, in recognition of professional excellence and leadership in and support of the division, which seeks to gain loan fund dollars for Israel's economic upbuilding.

The Israel Bond Maimonides Award was first presented in 1977; the recipient was Dr. Albert Sabin, discoverer of the "Sabin polio vaccine."

Dinner chairman is Dr. Leiberman; co-chairmen are Drs. Mathew Borovoy, Joel Leib and Hershel Sandberg.

Dr. Leuchter, chief of the Neurology Division of Sinai Hospital in Detroit, was born in Canada and attended the University of Toronto School of Medicine. He interned at the Royal Columbian Hospital in New Westminster, British Columbia, and began general practice in Windsor, Ont.

HE THEN served his medicine residency at Sinai Hospital and his neurology residency at the University of Minnesota, where he was awarded the Shapiro Award. Dr. Leuchter also received the Scholarship Award for Excellence in neurology.

He is a member of the American Academy of Neurology, the New York Academy of Science and the AMA.

Dr. Luft, a native of New York City, earned his bachelor of science and podiatric medicine degrees at Long Island University. He was chief of podiatry at Fort Bragg, U.S. Army Hospital from 1955 to 1957. His current hospital affiliations are Strath Memorial, Harper, Botsford, Kern Special Surgery and Dearborn Medical Center. He has held the chief of podiatry staff position at both Strath Memorial and Kern hospitals.

Dr. Luft has held leading roles in the Michigan State Podiatry Association and the American Board of Podiatric Surgery and is a national lecturer on foot surgery.

In addition to his affiliation with the Israel Bond Organization, Dr. Luft is a member of B'nai B'rith's Professional Division, Temple Israel Brotherhood, Tam-O-Shanter Country Club, the Founders Society, the Detroit Symphony Orchestra Association and the Grand Opera Association of Detroit.

DR. MAGEN, dean and professor of Pediatrics at the Michigan State University College of Osteopathic Medicine, was born in Brooklyn, N.Y., and attended the University College of Arts and Sciences, New York University and the College of Osteopathic Medicine and Surgery in Des Moines, Iowa. His pediatrics residency was at College Hospital, Des Moines, and he began his private practice in Dallas, Tex., followed by a return to Des Moines and then to Wyandotte. Dr. Magen is currently licensed to practice in all three states.

Dr. Magen also has held academic appointments at Des Moines' Osteopathic College and at the Michigan College of Osteopathic Medicine in Flint, where he served as dean. He was Pediatric Department chairman at Des Moines General, Riverside Osteopathic (in Trenton) and Detroit Osteopathic hospitals. He was medical director and director of medical education at Ziegler-Botsford Hospitals in Farmington Hills and is associated with Michigan State University's Olin Health Center and the Department of Pediatric Clinical Center, MSU.

His professional organizational memberships include the American Osteopathic Association, the American Association for the Advancement of Science and the National Council on International Health.

Crystal portrays Lady Liberty

This crystal Statue of Liberty was presented by the president of France to the people of Michigan. It is on display temporarily at the Botsford Inn.

A special exhibit arranged by Gov. James Blanchard will be available for public viewing at the Botsford Inn until the conclusion of the Farmington Hills inn's sequentennial celebration.

A crystal Statue of Liberty was presented by the president of France to the people of Michigan in honor of the 100th anniversary of the "Lady" in New York harbor.

Resting on a heavy granite base, the statue is bolted into a bright, cobalt-blue lacquered case estimated to weigh 65 pounds. Crystal De Seves, founded by Louis XIV, was commissioned to fashion the masterpiece.

The statue has been on display since July at the State Capitol in Lansing.

"The governor and the office of the Michigan Sequentennial wanted the people of the state to view this spectacular work of art," said Angel Bakos, public relations/marketing consultant for the inn.

"Because of the inn's yearlong celebration, the public will have an excellent opportunity to enjoy what is really theirs," said Bakos, adding, "It also demonstrates an awareness by our Lansing officials that these gifts are to be shared."

The next sequentennial event will be a juried flower show sponsored by the Federation of Garden Clubs and an art and antiques show scheduled for Nov. 29-30.

The Botsford Inn is on Grand River at 1-96.
