

Oakway spotlights talent from within

Donald Morelock teams up with DiBlasi

TALENT FROM within the Oakway Symphony will headline the orchestra's second subscription concert at 3 p.m. Sunday in Harrison High School auditorium, Farmington Hills.

Featured soloists include concertmistress Emily Austin performing "Hejre Kull" by Hubay; flutist Roger Welton playing Debussy's "Afternoon of a Faun"; Emily Fromme-Benigen as soloist in Marcello's Concerto for Oboe; and Barbara Grover, English horn player, performing Dvorak's Symphony No. 5 from the New World.

Also performing will be Oakway conductor, Francesco DiBlasi, on trumpet playing Saint-Saens Concerto for Trumpet and Piano with Donald Morelock at the keyboard. The remainder of the program will include the first and fourth movements of Beethoven's 5th Symphony and Roger Welton conducting Offenbach's LaBelle Helene Overture.

MORELOCK is chairman of the piano department at Schoolcraft College where he teaches and directs the piano teachers' certification program. He received a master of music degree in piano performance from the University of Michigan and also has studied in Vienna, Dallas, Aspen and New York City.

An active recitalist, he has performed in numerous two-piano and chamber recitals throughout Michigan. He has appeared with the Oakway Symphony as one of two pianists in Bach's Concerto for Two Pianos. In 1983, Morelock was voted Teacher of the Year by the Michigan Music Teachers Association. He also received the Schoolcraft College Presidential Award in 1984.

DiBlasi, who began playing the trumpet when he was 4 years old, has been affiliated with the Detroit Symphony, the Buffalo Philharmonic, Radio City Music Hall in New York, Stokowski's American Youth Orchestra, and the Metropolitan Opera Company as well as the New York City Opera Company. He is presently on the staff of Madonna College in Livonia.

Tickets are $8.50 with a $6 rate for senior citizens. They are available at Hammill Music in Livonia, Madonna College and Executive Office Supply in Farmington. For more information, call 353-2128 or 591-5046.

briefly speaking

DSO METRO CONCERT

As part of its outreach programs, the Detroit Symphony Orchestra will present a concert at 8 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 22, in Churchill High School auditorium in Livonia.

The concert, sponsored by the J. L. Hudson Co., will be conducted by Stephen Stein, Exxon/Arts Endowment conductor for the symphony, and will feature familiar classics and pops selections.

The concert is open to the public. Tickets are $5 and are available at the Churchill business office and the Livonia City Hall. For more information, call 421-2000, Ext. 351. Churchill is on Newburgh, just north of Joy Road.

WEAVERS SALE

The Mill Race Weavers Guild will hold its annual handwoven sale from noon to 5 p.m. Sundays, Nov. 16 and Nov. 23, in the Weaver's Cottage at Northville's Historical Village. There is no admission charge.

ART DECO NIGHT

The Detroit Art Deco Society will present "Deco Night at the Redford" at 8 p.m. Friday, Nov. 21. The fundraiser will feature a costume competition of would-be Rudolph Valentino and Gloria Swanson lookalikes.

"This gathering of elegant and sophisticated moviegoers will seek, if only for one night, to re-create the magic of the era and the cinematic opulence with which have endowed the art deco period," a spokesman said.

Selected to be shown on the movie screen that night will be the classic comedy, "Dinner at Eight," starring Jean Harlow and Wallace Beery.

Special rules apply to the costume competition and copies may be obtained by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the society in care of P.O. Box 21, Ulster 46087. Tickets to the event are $4.50 for nonmembers. For more information, call 258-6848 or 545-4663 during normal business hours. The Redford Theater is at 17369 Lahser Road, Detroit.

ART EXPLORATION WORKSHOP

The Farmington Community Center is offering an art exploration advanced workshop for ages 5-10 from 4 to 5:30 p.m. Tuesdays beginning Nov. 18. There will be four sessions for $20.

Karen Carter, who has a master's in art education from the University of Michigan, is the instructor. There is no prerequisite for this workshop. Materials are not provided. Students will use their own acrylic paints and/or other media to paint on canvas and paper. For more information, call the center at 477-8404.

AMERICAN PICTURES

"American Pictures," a multimedia presentation on American life and the American underclass, will be shown at 1 p.m. Sunday in Room 138 Classroom Administration Building, the University of Michigan-Dearborn.

The film depicts Jacob Holdt, who came to this country with $40 in his pocket, and his ability to live on the hospitality of Americans he met hitchhiking. He encounters underclass blacks, Indians and whites, as well as millionaires and upper-class families. A secretly filmed Ku Klux Klan meeting and a disturbing look at the city of Detroit are included in the film.

Film creator Holdt, the Danish vagabond-photographer, will be present at the showing and available for questions and discussion. Admission is free and the event is open to the public. For more information, call 593-5390 or 593-5556.
