DESPITE INCREASED competition, the Farmington Hills Parks and Recreation Department winter sports equipment sale Saturday "held its own."

"We used to be the only game in town. Now there's many such sales, we're still doing very well," David Justus, recreation supervisor.

Bought and sold were downhill and cross country skis, hockey equipment, skates, sleds, ski racks and ski clothes.

Items were sold on consignment with the city keeping 20 percent of the sale price.

The sale was held in the East Middle School cafeteria.
