

Gifts for the home

There's more to this wicker trunk than good looks. By Henry Link in four finishes, it can also serve as a coffee table as well as provide storage space. It would even look great just as it is — as an accent piece filled with colorful pillows.

No need to worry about this floor lamp matching a particular color scheme if a gift for the home is what you have in mind. It's made of clear lucite and boasts a magazine rack as well and has three-way lighting. The parson's chair is by Hickory Hill and is available in assorted decorator fabrics.
