

Interested in TV production? Tell others

Special welcome to Central Michigan senior Lisa Pattinaro to our SWOCC winter internship. Pattinaro is a journalism major with an interest in television. She will coordinate our spring newsletter for community television and radio. Pattinaro would like to publish a "crew/talent call list" in the newsletter. Those of you need additional production positions filled or are looking to get more hands-on experience, call us at 473-7266 and allow us to publish your name, phone number and times you are available. February is the month for decisions and review. The Cable Access Committee will be meeting Feb. 10 at Farmington City Hall, at 7 p.m. The public is welcome. Recommendations are prepared for the cable commission regarding our local television offerings. The Southwestern Oakland Cable Commission will meet Feb. 17 at 4 p.m. in Farmington City Hall. Residents are welcome to attend and address the commission. The cable commission office for the three cities of Farmington, Novi and Farmington Hills is open Monday through Friday for inquiries or cable concerns. Even though the Cable Act of 1984 has opened up the cable industry marketing to their own discretion, the franchise contracts with the cities remain intact. The areas of quality of service standards and responsibilities laid out for the communities in terms of cable build, design, intent, television facilities, equipment and personnel must continue to be respected.
