

TOM KRAMER

Anthony LaVasco's loop is an example of the kind of energy and enthusiasm that typifies Detroit Dance Collective.

The Royal Oak Arts Council will put its best foot forward for Valentine's Dance Day, Saturday, Feb. 14 at the Royal Oak Campus of Oakland Community College.

"An Affair of the Heart," will feature Detroit Dance Collective in a modern dance concert at 8 p.m. and Saturday morning classes designed especially for beginning dancers and taught by company members. Classes include creative dance for children (7 and up), 10-10:45 a.m.; jazz for adults and teens, 10-11:30 a.m.; and ballet and modern, for adults and teens from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m.

The concert will feature the work of artistic directors Barbara Selinger and Paula Kramer and excerpts from "Folksey" by renowned choreographer Sophie Maslow.

The eight-member dance troupe is the professional company now in its fourth year of residence at OCC where the dancers conduct credit and non-credit dance classes. The company also travels statewide performing its varied repertory in theaters, schools, colleges and community centers.

Dance Day caps the Collective's fifth annual "Danceabout Series" for middle and high school students. Both general and special education students will see concerts on Tuesday and Thursday, Feb. 10 and 12, at 10:50 a.m. and remain on campus for classes in modern and jazz dancing, and for informal "Conversations With The Artists" after the performances.

Groups from community centers may attend both concerts and special group rates are available. For reservations for Saturday or weekday events, call 548-9864. Fees range from $5-$9 for concert tickets on Saturday, $3 for weekday concerts and $4-$6 for Saturday classes.

Showing Amish quilts

"To Warm Your Heart" is the theme of the sixth annual quilt show to be held at The Village Barn of Franklin 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Feb. 5, 6, 7.

There will be more than 50 handmade Amish and American country style quilts and wall hangings. The show is coordinated by Gail Hurn of Evansville, Ind. and Linda Lindsey of Houston, Texas.

Hurn will give a program, "Quilts in General, Amish in Particular" at The Village Barn at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 5, 6. There is no charge for the program, but reservations are required. To make them, call 851-7877. Both Hurn and Lindsey will be available throughout to answer questions.

Quilts with Amish design will be highlighted, many with a contemporary look in solid colors and many with the heart-shaped design characteristic of Amish culture. Several replicas of antique quilts with bright colors combined with navy or black in the style of the midwestern Amish will be on display.

All quilts and wall hangings are for sale and special orders will be taken. Also available will be Amish pillows, folk art, dolls baskets and related items.

The Village Barn is at 32760 Franklin Road, south of 14 Mile, Franklin Village.
