School millage is renewed

The Farmington district voters have never defeated a school tax renewal.

The 4-mill renewal represents about $5.6 million, or 10 percent, of the 10,200-student district's operating budget.

Precinct 1 at Farmington Training Center brought out the most voters with 250, followed by Precinct 2 at Dunckel Middle School with 211, Precinct 3 at Warner Middle School with 167, Precinct 4 at East Middle School with 141 and absentee voters, considered Precinct 5, totalling 63.

Each precinct voted to approve the millage renewal.

The renewal will just meet basic cost increases for energy, supplies and salaries, deputy superintendent Michael Flanagan said.

The vote gives financial officials the go-ahead to prepare budget proposals for the 1987-88 fiscal year which begins July 1.

Flanagan expects a combination of the Tax Limitation Amendment and needed building improvements in the district, will require levying the full 4 mills. Although property taxes come up for renewal at a pre-set amount, the district for the past five years chose to not levy the full amount.
