

Screen-enclosed deck extends living space

A NEW DECK, porch or patio represents a substantial investment in outdoor living, but biting insects often limit homeowners to only part-time use of this investment, particularly after dark. An economical solution is an easily constructed screened enclosure, which makes outdoor living a pleasure all day long, and after dark too.

A screen-enclosed deck, porch or patio extends your living space outdoors at minimum cost. You'll have an outdoor living room that's light and airy by day, and lets in pleasant evening breezes without moths and mosquitos.

Housekeeping is easier, too. A screened enclosure keeps out wind-blown leaves and other debris all year round. And since the screening reduces ultraviolet transmission, there's less fading of furniture and fabrics.

SCREENED ENCLOSURES are versatile. With design and function limited only by your imagination, you can create your own style of outdoor living. You can enclose an existing porch, deck, patio or pool. Or partially enclose a deck, with an open area for sunbathing. You can design a focal point for outdoor entertaining with an enclosed summer house, adjacent open deck and an outdoor barbecue center.

An economical screened enclosure is even less expensive when you include it in your outdoor construction plans. Your local building center or home improvement contractor can help you plan a design to complement your home and your style of outdoor living.

A folder illustrating some contemporary designs of screened enclosures is available from the Insect Screening Weavers Association, Box 8727, Harrisburg, Pa, 17105.
