Ambulance Awareness Day is set

Community Emergency Medical Service Inc., a non-profit, hospital-based ambulance service serving metro-Detroit, will be among the members of the Michigan Association of Ambulance Services attending Ambulance Awareness Day on the grounds of the State Capitol in Lansing May 6.

The annual event is to promote awareness of the importance of ambulance and emergency medical services to the health and welfare of Michigan's citizens. The day will also be recognized by a Declaration from Gov. James Blanchard.

Community EMS will display one of their many modern ambulances, which currently provide advanced life support treatment and transportation to the citizens of Farmington, Farmington Hills, Livonia, Northville, Northville Township, Novi, Plymouth and Redford Township.

Since 1982, Community EMS has been committed to upgrading the level of patient care and transportation in the municipalities it serves. With continued support from state government, CEMS and other agencies hope to enlighten local communities to the importance of quality emergency medical services.
