Judy Antishin

Chicken recipes given

Chicken, the domestic fowl that frequently ends up as dinner fare, is the subject of a two hour cooking seminar this month at the Farmington Community Center.

Judy Antishin, who, for several years, has been teaching cooks how to wing it for just about any culinary occasion, conducts her "Plain and Fancy Chicken" class from 7:30-9:30 p.m. Wednesday, May 13 in the Community Center, 24705 Farmington Road, Farmington Hills.

Antishin has boasted that she could make chicken everyday for several months and not repeat a single recipe. She demonstrates ways to serve the bird for daily meals or formal get togethers.

She dresses up her chicken dinners with a variety of toppings ranging from oyster dressing to rice dressing from Louisiana. A salad, pasta or vegetable will round out the chicken menu. Students will be asked to eat the evening's demonstration.

Antishin gives advice on the kinds of spices to use with chicken and tips on deboning a bird.

Spaces are still available for the class. For details call 477-8040.
