Chillin' out

This colorful inflatable guy holds your favorite beverage still while you float in the swimming pool. Let your drink float while enjoying the lazy, hazy — yee, and sometimes crazy — days of summer. Not a bad idea for Dad's Day either. Two-plece get for $8.50. Warren's Drug Store, Farmington Hills.

Say 'cheese' cake

This scrumptious-looking key lime cake with Father's Day theme is just one of more than a dozen excite flavora from the "Gournet Cheeseeake Club" of Farmington Hills. A minimum three-month memberahlp allows you to ship gift-wrapped cheeseeakes, one each month almost anywhere in the U.S. (49 states). The all-walnut crust can be filled with the flavor of your choice. Flavor generally coincide with the season: raspborry ribbon, apple bavarian, kaluah, rum mocha, black forest. There are others. For more information, call the Gourmet Cheesecake Club, 553-2833.

Taking a shine to dad

What better way to package all a guy needs to keep his shoes looking good than this zipper kit that resembles the toe of a real shoe. Done up in suede, the case holds three brushes, shine cloth and two cans of polish, $22 at Gemint II Office Supple & Gifts, Franklin Center Bidg., 28400 W. 12 Mile, Southfield.

Status symbols

If you have the bucks to drive the car, you certainly should have the key and chain to match. These 14k pleces boast the familiar Mercedes Benz grill and hood ornament. Only the best for the discriminating auto buff. Key, $222. Key ring, $480. Tappers, Franklin Centre Bidg, 28400 W. 12 Mile, Southfield.

Making movies

"Uncle Jed, I'se gonna be a movie director," said the nouveau riche young man after purchasing a genu-ine movie director's chair and beret. Unfortunately, if that young man's brains were tar, they'd spread a rather thin road. He was not a success.

But those who are serious about learning the intricacles of film and videotape production might want to check out the Focal Point seminar at Cranbrook Kingswood School, scheduled for Monday, June 22, Lo Saturday, June 27. For a total fee of $380, participants get workshop instruction and get to make their own films and videotapes (super 8mm or 16mm, animation or live action).
