

3,900 PAGES — That's the job that faces Farmington Board of Commerce Administrator Barbara Benya as she collates the listing of Farmington industries.

Industry Listing Available

From Above Equipment to Zebrowski & Associates, ... from electronic components to demolition contractors, ... That's the gamut of industries located within Farmington.

The Farmington Board of Commerce has just completed a 13-page listing of the area's industries and manufacturers. At least there is a listing as of last April. Each one of the firms listed on the assessment rolls for both city and township was contacted in compiling the listing. Any plant moving into the area after April has to wait for the new listing. About 200 copies of the listing are available. Board of Commerce Administrator Barbara Benya said that the list is free to the Board of Commerce members. Non-members may purchase the list for $2.

The listing includes the name and address of the plants; the names of the principal officers; an explanation of the product produced by the firm; the age of the business and the number of employees. Mrs. Benya said that approximately 200 hours of work had gone into the project.

JOHN E. ATKINSON of 31621 Larmer Drive, Farmington, has been named project director and staff assistant in the Detroit Edison system and stations division of the electrical system department. He holds a bachelor's degree from the State University of Iowa and a masters from Wayne State University. In 1956 Atkinson was named an electrical equipment and stations engineer.

10 Set For Merit Finals

Ten Students in Farmington area high schools have been named semifinalists in the 14th annual National Merit Scholarship Program.

They were among the highest scorers on the National Merit

Scholarship qualifying test, given nationwide last February in 17,500 schools. To be eligible for one of the 1,000 National Merit $1,000 scholarships, a semifinalist must advance to the finalist standing.

Academic grades, accomplishments, leadership qualities, extracurricular activities, school citizenship and a second examination are judged in determining finalists. Qualifying from North Farmington High are Richard Archer, Janet Elliott, James Kaplan, William Marberg, David Wilson and Glenn Winnie. Our Lady of Sorrows semifinalist is John Abowd. The three semifinalists from Our Lady of Mercy High include Patricia Brennan, Virginia Locker and Teresa Schaffer. There were no finalists from Farmington High School.

Language Classes Set For Saturday

Saturday morning classes in French and Spanish have been scheduled for both Fairview and 10 Mile Schools.

The 10-week course, which is open to students in grades two through eight, will offer instruction on three levels—beginning, intermediate and advanced. The courses are designed to provide elementary school students with an exposure to a language other than English. Tuition fee is $8 per student. Students living north of 12

Mile may enroll in the Fairview School program, while students living south of 12 Mile are invited to attend the 10 Mile classes.

Fairview classes will begin Saturday, Sept. 28, while the 10 Mile program opens Saturday, Oct. 5. Currently, the program is sponsored by the local PTA's with the cooperation of the Farmington PTA Council.

Registration applications have been sent home with the children. In order to ensure a place in the classes, it is necessary to register prior to the first class.

Directing the program at Fairview is Mrs. Bruce Sinclair (625-0620). Donald McGregor (GR 4-9404) is in charge of the 10 Mile classes.

RALPH F. TYNDALL of Royal Oak resigned from the Oakland Community College Board of Trustees Sept. 20 for personal reasons. No successor has been appointed to fill the vacancy.

Oakland To Host Mental Health Meet

The substance and direction of the Community Mental Health Movement and its involvement with such vital areas as drug abuse, teenage behavior problems, alcoholism, children's services, mental health centers and mental retardation will be the focus of attention Sept. 25, for 150 professionals and key laymen at the Third Annual Mental Health Conference. Held at Oakland University under the sponsorship of the Oakland County Community Health Services Board, the conference will be keynoteed by James O. Kelly, Ph.D., associate professor, Clinical Psychology, University of Michigan. Dr. Kelly's address is entitled: "How Do We Know We're 'Doing Good?'"

A FOUR-MEMBER discussion panel, moderated by Robert Jones, executive director of Family Service, will follow Dr. Kelly. Panel members are: R.K. Smith, Ph.D., deputy commissioner, Genesee Valley Regional Mental Health Services; Richard Robert Dwyer, M.D., chairman, Mental Health Committee, Oakland County Medical Society; Sister Irene, Administrator, Providence Hospital; and John English, Ph.D., superintendent, Southfield Public Schools.

Conference luncheon speaker will be Allen J. Enelow, M.D., professor and chairman of the Department of Psychiatry, Michigan State University. Dr. Enelow will speak on "Changing Concepts in Community Psychiatry in a Changing Society." The day's program will wind up with small discussion groups keyed to such community concerns as: "Children's Services" led by Allan K. Thorburn, M.D., director of Clinical Services, Oakland Child Guidance Clinics, Inc.; "Behavioral Problems of Adolescents" led by Andrew Yang, Ph.D., director of Research, Training, and Clinical Services for the Juvenile Division of the Oakland County Probate Court; "Alcoholism" moderated by Hon. Norman R. Barnard, Oakland County Probate Court Judge; "Drug Abuse" moderated by Herbert Raskin, M.D., president of the Michigan Chapter of the American Psychiatric Association; and "Mental Retardation" moderated by Mrs. Ted B. Ostrowski, Oakland County Association for Retarded Children.

BEFORE joining U. of M., Dr. Kelly served from 1961 to 1964 as chief of the Community Projects Section, Mental Health Study Center at the National Institute of Mental Health. In early 1964, he took the position of assistant professor, Department of Psychology at the University of Maryland, and a year later, the title of associate professor, Department of Psychology at Ohio State University.

In addition to his many professional activities with the American Psychological Association, Dr. Kelly is a consultant to the National Center for Health Statistics and a consulting editor for the Community Mental Health Journal.

Dr. Enelow also has an extensive professional background including the establishment of the first comprehensive medical care clinic at the Los Angeles County General Hospital; chief of Inpatient Services at St. John's Hospital in Santa Monica; and section officer on Psychiatry and Neurology, California Medical Association.

He has also served as professor and director of Psychosomatic Service at the USC School of Medicine. One of Dr. Enelow's major fields of interest is Community Mental Health Services, particularly patterns of utilization of mental health care, and utilization and training of mental health care personnel.

Musical To Meet Sept. 25

Introducing the new Lincoln-Mercury cars. Three different cars you've never seen before, for people who have never been in our showroom before.

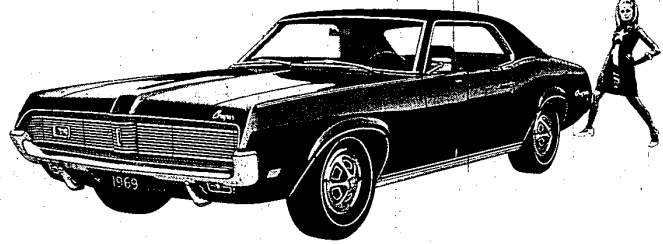

New Marquis. The most dramatically styled car since the Continental Mark III.

You won't see a medium-priced car like this in any other showroom. Marquis has a dramatic elegance, a majestic beauty that only the creators of the Continental Mark III could make. With this styling and the surprising price, you have no excuse to settle for a dull little car.

New Marauder X-100. Now you don't have to sacrifice comfort if you want a sporty road car.

A full-size road car with more thrill per inch than anything that has ever been in our showroom. You get a choice of bench, twin comfort, or bucket seats; styled aluminum wheels, a horn that blows by squeezing the steering wheel rim, a 429-cu. in., 4-barrel V-8 and rakish fender skirts—all standard.

New American Cougar with a continental accent.

Cougar owners will tell you how much fun they are to drive. That hasn't changed. But the looks have. Compare it to the foreign sports cars. Anything the Europeans can do we can do better. Cougar is now available as a convertible. And Cougar continues to be the best-equipped luxury sports car in its class. A big 351-cubic inch V-8 is standard. So are concealed headlamps, sequential rear turn signals and bucket seats.

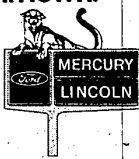

Your Mercury dealer leads the way with the most exciting new cars in town.
