Six Livonia teenagers and four from Farmington are among the more than 100 chosen for the new Detroit Symphony Youth Orchestra. Observerland's contingent includes three trumpet players, one bassoonist, one French horn player, one tuba player, two viola players and two violinists. Four are girls and six are boys.

All were selected from competitive auditions during the summer. Nearly 400 outstanding candidates were involved.

THE YOUTH ORCHESTRA season includes rehearsals Saturday afternoons in Ford Auditorium throughout the year as well as two concerts later in the year.

All of Observerland's orchestra members give credit to the school system for helping them in their studies of music...most began studying in the fifth grade.

From Livonia comes the principal first trumpet of the new orchestra, Paul Randall, a student at Dickinson Junior High School. Paul, who is only

Community Theaters Active In November

It's possible to attend three opening nights in Observerland on three successive Fridays this month.

The Southfield Community Players get the little theater ball rolling with their presentation of "You Know I Can't Hear You When the Water's Running," opening Nov. 13, in the Civic Center, Southfield.

THE NEXT week will take first nighters out to the Farmington Player's Barn on 12 Mile, where the group opens with "Up the Tree" by Peter Ustinov, Nov. 20.

Nov. 27, it's off to Bentley High School in Livonia for the Livonia-Redford Theatre Guild's "big show," the musical "Cabaret."

"You Know I Can't Hear You When the Water's Running" will also be staged Nov. 14, 20 and 21 with an 8:30 curtain. Tickets are $2 each and can be reserved by calling the Parks and Recreation Dept. at the Civic Center, 236-1100.

Veteran community players will join professionals and newcomers alike for the four one-acts which involve an argument over nude theater-twin beds, parents and college-age children; and nostalgia that comes with senility.

Presented Nov. 27 and 28 and Dec. 4, 5 and 6. Tickets chairman is Mrs. Mary O'Connell, KE 7-8109.

Appearing in the Southfield Play will be Dennis Broadhead in the role of Kerb Miller. Broadhead has frequently appeared with the Farmington and Livonia-Redford groups.

THE FARMINGTON PLAYERS comedy will run for three weekends Nov. 20, 21 and 22, 27, 28 and 29 and Dec. 4, 5 and 6.

"Half Way Up the Tree" is a switch on the generation gap theme, when the father, played by Bob Casemore, becomes a "hippie."

TICKETS MAY be obtained by calling Alberta or George Mullin at 474-2873.

Hall Waller, Bonnie McFarland, Duane Smith and Don Lupp are involved in directing "Cabaret" for the Livonia-Redford Theatre Guild. The show will be pre-
