Let there be light

And there will be light in the very latest fashion — the southwest look in lamps by Casual Lamps from California and Pacific for the great room or sun room. Available at the Design Center in Troy. Ask for help from your favorite decorator. That's the only way you can visit the design center.

Oval or round

The design is by Joe D'Urso and is appropriately called Cono. It was designed for the Espirit showroom in California. The base is sheet steel finished with an oven-baked epoxy. The top can be either terrazzo, glass or granite. It's available in either round and oval in either occasional or dining room size. Base-only price is $412. At Arkitektura, 800 N. Woodward, Birmingham.

Tokyo chair

The modernistic Tokyo chair was designed by popular English designer Rodney Kinsman as part of his latest minimalist collection. It is fashioned from a painted tubular steel frame, but is also available in chrome. The seat is upholstered in vinyl. $203.50 at Arkitektura, 800 N. Woodward, Birmingham.

... and more light

It's called Feather. Here are its dimensions: 3 1/2 inch in diameter; 5 1/2 inches high base; and 4 1/2 in diameter at the shade. The arm is 32 inches long and rotates to 360 degrees with complete vertical-horizontal adjustment. It's shown in black satin. The designer is Robert Sonneman. It is available, through a decorator, at the George Kovacs Lighting Inc. showroom in the Design Center in Troy.
