Community women give a scholarship

Each year, Farmington Area Community Women grant a scholarship to a woman returning to college who has been out of school for at least four years. This year the recipient is Leslie Joy Bruno. The Farmington Hills resident is now attending Mercy College after transferring from Oakland Community College. She is working toward her degree in the school's nursing program.

The funds for the scholarship are raised through various projects planned throughout the year.

The next fund-raiser on the group's calendar is "Lunch With the Great Pumpkin" in connection with a canned goods drive Oct. 24. Next comes the annual Arts and Crafts Show and Sale set for Saturday, Nov. 14, at Farmington High School.

Later in the season, the women will be giving Thanksgiving food baskets and preparing children's gifts for Christmas giving to the area's needy. They will host a tree trimming party in an area nursing home and host parties for Sarah Fasher and Marillac Hall residents.

Inquiries about the organization are taken by Joyce Allender at 553-7217.
