● J.C. HEARD
Jazz drummer J.C. Heard and his 13-piece orchestra perform, for listening and dancing, from 8:30 p.m. to 12:30 a.m. Mondays at Sassy's at the Holiday Inn of Southfield. The concert and dance series coincides with the release of Heard's latest album, "Some of this - Some of that." Cover charge is $5. Reservations for the show or a dinner-show package may be arranged by calling the sales office at 353-7700, Ext. 315.

● FAMILY NIGHT
Committee for Children's Television in Birmingham is sponsoring a Family Night 6:30-8:30 p.m. Friday, Nov. 20, at the Detroit Science Center. The event, presented in cooperation with Elias Brothers restaurants, will feature food, clowns and the film "Seasons," narrated by William Shatner on the center's Omnimax screen. There is a $25 fee per family of four (each additional child $2) and seating is limited. Call 642-7919 for more information.

● NEW SEASON
Actors Alliance Theatre of Southfield has established residency at the Music Hall Center for the Performing Arts in Detroit beginning with the Fats Waller musical "Ah! My Missbehavior." Its 1987-88 season features three productions at the Music Hall, including the holiday favorite "Miracle on 34th Street" and the comedy "Cloud 9." "Ah! My Missbehavior," continues through Sunday, Nov. 15. Tickets are priced at $15.50-$17.50 and may be ordered by calling the Music Hall box office at 963-7680. For further information, contact the Actors Alliance at 642-1326 weekdays.

● NEW CLASSES
Acting classes are being offered by the Actors Alliance Conservatory of Theatre through Monday, Dec. 14 in Southfield. Class offerings include scene and monologue showcase opportunities for advanced students and introductory classes for new students beginning with the professional company. For a free program brochure, call 642-1326 weekdays.

● IN CONCERT
Folktown Coffeehouse of Southfield presents Lorena McKennitt in concert at 8 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 14, at the Southfield Civic Center. McKennitt has performed in Gilbert & Sullivan and Shakespeare productions in Stratford, Ontario, as well as at the Blythe, Ontario, Summer Festival. Musically, McKennitt is a favorite on the Canadian folk circuit. Her specialty, Celtic music, frequently takes her to the British Isles on musicalogical research trips. She is best known for her performances on the Irish harp and for her vocals. For more information, call 855-9848 6-9 p.m.

● BROADWAY REVUE
Birmingham's Community House is hosting a Broadway Revue dinner theater Sunday, Nov. 15. Theatre Arts Productions Inc. performers will appear in a tribute to favorite Broadway tunes. The evening of singing and dancing begins with cocktails at 6 p.m., dinner at 7 p.m., followed by a revue at 8 p.m. Tickets for the Broadway Revue are $26 per person, $24.50 for seniors, and include the cost of the dinner and the show. To reserve tickets, call the program department at The Community House at 644-5832.

● MIRAGE APPEARS
Bates Street Night Out will feature Mirage, a five-piece professional jazz group that has performed at the Detroit Jazz Festival for the last five years, from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Thursday, Nov. 12, at The Community House in Birmingham. The Night Out is designed for informal socializing with adults and live entertainment. Mirage produced and arranged the music for the new movie "The Rosary Murders," and its vocalist, Nancy Wood, sings "In Your Eyes" in the movie. Mirage performed recently at the Montreux Jazz Festival in Switzerland and has performed on numerous albums. Tickets for Bates Street Night Out are available at the door and by reservation. Call 644-5832 for more information.

● IN 'ANATOL'
Oakland University will showcase performers not previously seen in mainstage productions in "Anatol," a play about a young, upwardly mobile womanizer. The play, written by a peer of Freud and first produced in 1893, investigates the psychological impulses and motivations behind the attraction to the opposite sex. "Anatol" will be performed at 8 p.m.
