December:
We will be bringing to you an action-packed month of cable exclusive programming as "Quest for Better Living" a new series produced and hosted by Lydla Rizzo, prem-

Lydia, a former teacher and li-Lydia, a former teacher and li-herarian, recently graduated from our summer studio workshop. With her new-found knowledge, she was most interested in producing a tele-vision series that, in her own words, "would enhance the quality of life for ourselves and others, considering both the fun and serious aspects of life."

for December entitled, "Discovering your ancestors and unknown relatives," guests Rosina Raymond and Jeanne Shook share the fun they've had in tracing and recording their family histories. In the process, they discovered relatives in Europe they hadn't even known existed and later visited. Both expert teachers in the subject of genealogy, they show viewers how they can actually trace their lineage and record it.

The second show in the series concerns itself with the more serious side of life, "Wills, Trusts and avoiding Probate." Attorney Donald Severance offers excellent advice on wills, trusts, reducing court costs and inheritance taxes. He even
