Horse-drawn rig to carry tourists

Would you trade in your car for a first-class horse and carriage?

In Farmington Hills, near the Botsford Inn, the first coach stop out of Detroit on the way to Lansing along Grand River.

Mackinac Island Carriage Tours brought just such a rig to Detroit for the Thanksgiving Day Parade. The rig took a trial run Nov. 24

A new team of four matched hackney horses was bought for the open carriage, which will be used on Mackinac Island for VIPs. They will pull a restored 90-year-old Kimball break, which seats six. New, specially designed harnesses come from Freedman Harness in Toronto, Ont.

Use pending Liquor license extended again

By Joanne Malliszewski
staff writer

The Arboretum Office Park along the 12 Mile office corridor has received a third two-year extension on a Class C liquor license for a long-anticipated restaurant.

The Farmington Hills City Council Nov. 23 agreed for the third time to hold the liquor by the glass license on developer Peter Burton's assurance that the planned restaurant is expected to be completed by late 1989, early 1990.

The extension was not unanimous with councilman Aldo Vagnozzi opposed to holding the license for the office development for two years. He asked for a one-year extension followed by a review.

"I don't see the need for a two-year extension. This would give them a full six years (that the license will be reserved)," Vagnozzi said.

The current and second extension expires March 12, 1988. The license was first held in reserve in March 1984 in anticipation that the planned restaurant would be in operation by March 1988.

Though councilwoman Jean Fox said, "I think it's unfair to hold it up for five years," she voted with the majority.

COUNCILWOMAN JAN Dolan

told Vagnozzi that Peter Burton, one of the Arboretum's developers, made it clear the restaurant would be years in the offing when he asked for license reservation.

"We knew at the time it would take several years," she said.

One other Class C license that was reserved for Elkin Equities for the Brookfield office development on Northwestern Highway, has been returned, city clerk Joan Reynolds said.

Two of the planned six three-story buildings of the Arboretum Office Park on 50 acres on 12 Mile, between Drake and Farmington roads, are complete and occupied.

The Arboretum developers hosted an open house Nov. 18 to celebrate completion of phase two and preleasing of the third building.

When Burton requested the second extension in March 1986, he told the council that the restaurant is supposed to be connected by walkways to phases one and three.

At that time, Burton said that developers were having difficulties attracting a restaurant to the incomplete office park because the only available trade was from the occupied offices.

"It's not essential for (phase) three to be built before the restaurant goes in," Burton said in March 1986.

Open house scheduled

Bob Bolle, champion carver and blue ribbon winner, will be at the Silver Sandpiper Gallery of Collectibles & Giftware to demonstrate his professional hand painting techniques.

He has now won awards for his hand-carved decoys and judged numerous competitions throughout the years. His decoys have been purchased by collectors in the United States and Canada.

Any of the hand-painted decoys can be purchased during the showing, but will be limited to a first come-first served basis.

Register Saturday, Dec. 5, or Sunday, Dec. 6, for a chance to win a hand-painted decoy. Drawing will be held Sunday at 5 p.m. Winner need not be present to win and will be notified by phone. Registrations prior to those two days will be accepted.
