Wings' coach is speaker for Prayer Breakfast

Jacques Demers, head coach for the Detroit Red Wings, will be the speaker for Farmington Area Jaycees 21st annual Community Leadership Prayer Breakfast. The event, patterned after the Presidential Breakfast in Washington, D.C., will begin at 7:30 a.m. Tuesday, Jan. 19, in Glen Oaks Country Club, 35000 13 Mile Road.

Demers is credited with giving his players an attitude adjustment that turned the hockey team around from the bottom of the NHL into the semifinals during his first season here. He is holder of the Jack Adams Award, the NHL's official Coach of the Year, and a runaway winner in balloting by the NHL Broadcasters Association.

He lives in Farmington Hills with his wife, Debbie, and the couple's three children, Brandy, Stephanie and Jason.

The program will include the presentation of several service awards honoring local business people who have contributed to Farmington Area Jaycees. And the Jaycee Distinguished Service Award will be presented.

Mayors of Farmington and Farmington Hills will proclaim the week of Jan. 17-23 as "Jaycee Week." Reservations for the buffet-style breakfast are $9.50 and can be made by calling the Jaycee Hotline, 477-JCCS. Checks, made payable to Farmington Area Jaycees, are to be sent to the Jaycees, P. O. TAKE THIS JOB AND...

How many times have you asked yourself these questions: 1) How can I break out of this 9-5 routine? 2) Do I enjoy having a boss who is always telling me what to do? 3) Why do I let someone else determine whether or not I'll receive a raise this year? If these questions sound familiar, perhaps you should ask a 4th question: "Am I ready to make a change?"

If you have dreamed of being your own boss, of enjoying a high income, these two words may be the answer: REAL ESTATE! But, why real estate?

Real Estate is one profession which allows you to be "President and Chairman of the Board" of your own destiny, because you work independently, you set your own hours and schedule, thereby eliminating the restrictions of the old "9 to 5" routine.

You set your own income level, then practice time-tested techniques that get you there!

At our "Career Seminar Series," we will explain in detail how you can benefit from a career in real estate.
