front row where she averaged five kills in 23 blocks.

Lisa Adams made the Blazers a strong defensive team with her serve reception. In addition to league honors, she was a region and a member of the all-state first team.

"She made the difference in the state by coming out on the bench and playing on a knee in the second and third games," Teeters said. "She was able to make the great saves even though she had sprained the knee the day before."

Mary Kelley, senior, Ladywood: As the setter in Ladywood's 3-1 effort, she was the key to the team's success, according to Teeters.

Besides averaging 14 assists per game, the versatile player also contributed 25 kills and 15 aces per game.

Kelley, who also received first-team all-state recognition, has received a full-ride athletic scholarship to Eastern Michigan for volleyball.

Mary's improvement over the last year resulted from her additional practices and off-season work," Teeters said. "Because of the extra time Mary put in, Ladywood reached 100 kills and a 100 percent reception."

Nancy Wagner, senior, Ladywood: The major force in the middle for the Blazers, she was an all-around contributor. The offense and the first net defense at the net.

Wagner averaged 3.1 aces and 2.2 blocks per game. A 32 percent serve, she also landed an average of more than two aces. She was named to the all-state third team.

Haley is our left side strength," Teeters said. "Her ability to block and offense in front of a wheel and arm are needed."

JoAnn Kohnits, senior, Wayne Memorial: Kohnits was one of the most talented athletes in the sport at Wayne.

She stood out as an all-around offensive player, averaging 335 kills, 1.6 aces per game, 2.2 blocks, 1.90 dig, 67 aces and 59 percent reception.

The noticeable mental attitude and team MVP landed 92 percent on serve reception.

captain 87 percent on serving, 91 percent on blocking and 83 percent on hitting.

Adams gave a good challenge, block hit and serve again," coach Ann Hays said. "She has a powerful spike, she always hit the ball with authority."

Adams is definitely a coach's dream player," the added. "She helped bring the team a long way."

Becky Wilson, senior, John Glenn: The 5-foot-11 middle blocker hit over 500 hitting attempts that produced 191 kills (235). Wilson averaged six kills and three solo blocks per game.

In addition, she was a 92-percent server and tallied 88 percent on serve reception, which amounted to less than one error per game. Wilson, an all-region pick, has accepted a volleyball scholarship to Wayne State.

"Becky is a very aggressive and dedicated player," Glenn, coach Wendy Boush said. "She was a definite asset, being the most well-rounded player on our all-state team."

Melissa Mars, junior, Bishop Borgess: The Spartans should be a solid team in 1988. In the running for state honors, the team's most consistent weapon last year, since Mars, an all-region pick, made an all-around play.

The all-Catholic all-region pick had a 33.3 percent average, which parallels her 33.3 percent average.

Mars improved greatly, and I'm looking forward to next year," Abraham said. "She was our most consistent weapon throughout the year and helped us get to the state finals."

Missy Boscawen, senior, N. Farmington: Boscawen was North's leader in kills and set and hit blocks for the Blazers. She enjoyed a 30-plus-win season.

She was the most active digger on the team and went all out for every ball she could reach, according to coach Sandy Boush. Boscawen was named MVP at 88 percent efficient on serve reception.

Mary had many key plays at crucial times of the game. Her match time turned the momentum in our favor," Boush said.
