

police/fire calls

Listed below are some of the Farmington-area police incidents, fire calls and court cases reported during the past week:

MAN ROBBED

A 30-year-old Farmington Hills motorist was robbed of his wallet and watch while stopped at a red light on northwest-bound Grand River near Botsford Drive May 10.

According to a Farmington Hills police report:

While stopped for the red light at 3:20 a.m., the man noticed a car stopped behind his. Moments later, he heard a knock on the driver's window of his car and saw two men, one pointing a gun at him, the other holding a folded knife.

The motorist then was ordered to roll down his window, hand over his wallet and watch, and drive away.

The robbers, thought to be about 20 years old, got back into their car and made a U-turn to southeast-bound Grand River. The getaway car possibly contained a third man.

STUDENT DETAINED

A 16-year-old Farmington High freshman was detained by officers and suspended from class indefinitely after marijuana was reported found in the student's possession May 9, police said.

According to a Farmington Department of Public Safety report, officers were called to the school Monday morning after about two grams of marijuana and assorted drug paraphernalia were found in the student's belongings. School officials told officers the student was to be suspended.

WOMAN ASSAULTED

A 22-year-old female employee at an Amoco gas station in Farmington was verbally and physically threatened as she worked during the early morning hours of May 7.

Two men stopped at the station, at 22420 Farmington Road, to make a purchase. One man then made verbal, sexual threats, exposed himself and tried to force the woman to touch him. The two men then left by car, according to a Farmington Department of Public Safety report.
