

Contractor vs. do-it yourself

But, for some people, close isn't good enough. The pros believe in giving a client all the options — explaining, for instance, that an exact match on trim can be achieved, but it will require millwork, and that will cost money.

For more information, send a stamped, self-addressed business-size envelope to the N.A.H.B. Remodelers Council, 15th and M Streets NW, Washington, DC 20005 and request the free pamphlet, "How to Choose a Remodeler Who's on the Level."

Window types
