Trenton race has prize money

Summer's here and the time is right for dancing in the streets.

Or running.

Or, better yet, both.

Friday night, downtown Trenton will be the site of what is generally condered the highlight of the road-racing season in the metropolitan Detroit sidered the highlight of the road-racing season in the metropolitan Detroit area.

About 3,000 runners, many of them from the Observer & Eccentric areas, will converge on the downriver community to run one of two races, then dance in the street till midnight.

Big prize money is at stake for the first time in the six-year history of the run, with $1,000 going to the men and women winners in each of the 8K (4.96 milles) and one-mile runs.

The one-mile is at 7:30 p.m., with the longer run at 8. The 8K makes two loops through stady, scenic Elizabeth Park, finishing in downtown Trenton, near the bandstand, free food and numerous kegs of beer.

Late entry fee is $10 and includes T-shirt, races, beer, wine, food and, last but most definitely not least, dancing, Registration is on Riverside Drive at $1. Joseph St. downtown. For information, call 675-2220.
