Fest opens Saturday

In 1985, an early version of "Reckless" was presented by South Coast Repertory in California. Since then, the play has been changed and has matured, mainly because the author has matured. But as Berezin said with force, "This will be the premiere of this play. This is 'Reckless.'"

And that's good for the Ann Arbor Summer Festival and Michigantians. It is the first time the festival has had the opportunity to premiere a major new artistic work written by a nationally renowned playwright. It's a collaboration between the festival and Circle Repertory Company.

THE FIRST collaboration was last year, when Circle Rep presented Sam Shepard's "Fool for Love," which had gone over well in New York before it was brought to Ann Arbor.

"And we hope Ann Arbor and Circle Rep will have a continuous collaboration through the years," Berezin said.

After being presented in Ann Arbor, "Reckless" will be performed by Circle Repertory Company in New York, as the first of five plays for the 20th-anniversary season.

Circle Repertory Company has received 27 Obie Awards, two Tony Awards and one Pulitzer Prize.

Berezin, a co-founder of Circle Rep, said, "I think you'd want to see 'Reckless' because it's an extraordinarily positive adventure, a journey through a woman's life as an adult."
