Co-op opens for 4- and 5-year-olds Gardeners win awards

Farmington Garden Club has given gold awards, silver awards, past master awards, and one special award this month to gardeners who were winners in the club's third annual 'Good Neighbor Garden Contest."

The special award went to Heather McKinnon who designed and planted a biblical herb garden on the grounds of First Presbyterian Church, 11 Mile and Farmington Road. The garden also won the Farmingnton Hills teen the Gold Award, the highest award given in Girl Scouling. Gold awards given by the garden club went to Walter and Jeff Gill, Marge and Larry Bitter, Helen Lang, John F. Neumann, Sr., and Charles and Rachel Schuler.

Mayfair Co-op Nursery, at 30450 Farmington Road, will open for classes Wedensday, Sept. 14. Openings are available for 4 and 5 years olds in afternoon sessions.

Mayfair offers the preschool child the opportunity to participate in an environment of play and learning while gradually breaking the bond from home through parent participation in the classroom, Parents also have the opportunity to share in their child's early education and observe the transition from home to school.

serve the transition from nome or school.

Maydair is the only coop nursery school in Farmington and Farmington Hills and is about to begin its 3th year of operation. Maxine Flagg, a state certified early child-hood teacher, has been at Maydair for 11 years and will assume the role of director and full-time instructor in September.

Additional services are available at Maydair that can allow families previously unable to participate in a co-op the opportunity to now do so. A "paid parent option" allows a working parent to hire another Mayfair parent to cover a portion of their assigned participation days. A significant other (grandparent, babysitter, etc.) may also work in lieu of the working parent. For families with younger siblings, Mayfair provides on-site babysitting co-opera-tively staffed by participating parents.

Also available at Mayfair is a non-co-operative prekindergarten en-richment class, which meets Tues-day and Thursday atternoons and is geared toward the older preschool child who can benefit from addi-tional classroom experience.

Openings are available in the co-op class meeting Monday, Wednes-day and Friday afternoons for 4 and 5 year olds and the non-co-op class for 4 and 5 year olds, which meets Tuesday and Thursday afternoons.
