Woolf, who is an artist and art teacher living in West Bioomfield, learned about corrective makeup aix months ago and decided abe was in-terested in helping facially and bodi-ty disfigured people in this way. Since her certification, Woolf bas worked with, among others, a 67-year-old woman with burns all over her body; taught a mentality retarded man, age 19, with a scarred chest;

helped a client whose face had been entirely rebuilt; and worked with an 18-year-old man who had bad facial

After taking a three-day training course locally, she attended a semi-nar in Minneapolis, where the psy-chology of dealing with facial disfig-urements was the focus of psycholo-gists, physicians, social scientiss, dermatologists, social workers, plas-tic surgeons and others. There are very few places where you can get this training," said woolf, who sat through daylong class sessions and was tested on her grasp of the material before receiving the certificate the prizes along with one she was awarded in local classes.
