

The ancients

The green stone mask, Guerrero, Mexico, may look abstract and modern, but it was actually made around the First Century B.C. It is one of the stars of a Pre-Columbian show at Donna Jacobs Gallery, 574 N. Woodward, Birmingham, which continues through this month. Hours are 11 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Tuesday-Saturday.

Music Study Club begins new season

Music Study Club of Metropolitan Detroit will open its season at Birmingham Temple at 12:15 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 27 with a lecture recital by Steven Rosenfield, pianist.

Rosenfield is chairman of the piano department of the Institute of Music and Dance of Detroit. He has performed as a soloist, in chamber concerts and as the featured artist in concerts throughout New York. He earned his doctorate from

State University of New York at Stony Brook. This past year he has served as judge for local, state and national music competitions and has performed extensively in the Detroit area and throughout Michigan.

Marian Parkins is chairman of the day. Guests are welcome. Nominal charge. For information, call Ruth Wildrich, 356-0187 or Marian Parkins, 642-7034.

Rug workshops offered

Free 90-minute workshops and lectures will be given at Hagopian World of Rugs showrooms in Birmingham, Oak Park and Ann Arbor 7-8:30 p.m. Mondays, beginning next week. To enroll, call Annetta, 646-RUGS.

Subjects covered in the series include how to use the classic oriental rug in interior decorating and floor-style design and how pattern, color, texture and scale can influence the mood of the room.
