'Think Trim' returns to Community Center

A recent survey given to doctors on the subject of dieting indicates a majority believe dieting in itself does not work. The doctors surveyed recommended a change in lifestyle instead.

Lorraine Stefano, founder and director of Think Trim, has taught the principles of losing weight and maintaining weight loss by helping participants to change their eating patterns and lifestyles for eight years.

Stefano brings her all-day seminar to the Farmington Community Center Saturday, Oct. 22. For registration information, call the center: 477-8004. There is a fee.

"Almost every diet out there will help you lose weight," said Stefano. "But once you reach your ideal weight, the chances of gaining all of your weight back, and more, are even greater."

"The yo-yo syndrome of gaining and losing weight is very unhealthy. If you can lose weight and learn the tools to maintain weight loss, you will be healthier and feel better," Stefano said.

Lorraine Stefano

She stresses the importance of self image, self motivation, healthy attitudes, losing weight and keeping it off.

AMERICAN LUNG SOCIETY
This space donated by the publisher as a public service by the publisher

Area women's club leads community volunteer

Kathy Harwood was chosen for two consecutive quarters, March through August, as the Farmington Area Community Women's "Woman Of The Quarter." Harwood, a resident of Farmington Hills, has been very active during this time with not only fund-raisers, but also with socials and community service participation.

She chaired the Easter Food Baskets for the Needy and the Returning Women's Scholarship. She was an active committee member on the annual Lunch with the Easter Bunny, as well as the fashion show fundraiser, Fall Fashions in Farmington.

Harwood was also a committee member on the May Swing Social and Sweetheart Appreciation. She coordinated the ice cream concession during the Founder's Festival, along with the concert parking on the Saturday night of the festival.

She is chairperson of the Mom & Kid's Outing, and is on the committee for the Corn Roast Social. She was a project worker on the Kid's Day concession booth and is the year-long standing chairperson for keeping track of donations given to the club.

If that is not enough, she also holds a board position as external vice president in the ways and means and community services areas.

Defend your Constitution

Quakertown Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution reminds us of the 201st anniversary of the signing of the United States Constitution. The ideals upon which this document is based are reinforced each day by the success of the system to which it gave birth. But the system cannot function without an enlightened public. Know your rights, freedoms and duties as a citizen. Study your Constitution. Defend it and preserve it.
