Girls hoop squads begin district action

A lot depends on the supporting cast. Redford Bishop Borgas (8-9): The Spartans, now in Class B, have as good a chance as anybody of advancing through the district. They could meet formidable Oak Park in the district final. Injuries have plagued the Spartans in what looked to be a promising season. Playing in the Catholic League's tough Central Division should help coach Mike Resmer's club.

CHOPPED STEAK
Westland Glenn (8-12): The Rockets open district play against Garden City in what should be a tossup. Coach Pat Bennett's team has not done well against the area's better clubs, but the talent is there to make a run at the Wayne district crown.

GROUND CHUCK
Redford Temple Christian (15-4): The Patriots have enjoyed a good season, but must get through by tough Wyandotte Mount Carmel in a first-round Class D district test. Mount Carmel is also the host. The odds are against it, but you never know with the Cannon sisters, Mandy and Rachael. If they're loaded with ammunition.
Livonia Churchill (7-13): Coach Dave Van Wagoner has won district titles with this team. The Chargers drew a first-round bye and have already beaten Garden City. Stranger things have happened.
Redford Union (9-11): The Panthers have built a near .500 record playing a lot of games, but beating host Southfield in a first-round district game is a strong possibility. Winning the district is not.

CHOPPED STEAK
Lutheran Westland (8-12): The Warriors, who play the winner of Redford Temple and Wyandotte Mount Carmel, rely on sophomore Stephanie Locke to show the way. It appears the Warriors will be without the key after one night of district play.
Livonia Stevenson (4-18): Don't let the Spartans' modest season-ending three-game winning streak fool you. If Lock Stevenson 15 games to win a balmage only after coach Chuck Hebert called up some reserves. A bye won't help the Spartans.

Farmington (8-14): Things didn't bode well for the Falcons, who were beaten thoroughly last week by Stevenson. Farmington is history tonight against Mercy.
Redford Thurston (5-14): The Eagles are a young team under first-year coach Dave Mann. It may take a few years for these young players to hatch. But give Mann an "A" for teaching hard-nosed defense. Better luck next year.

Redford St. Agatha (1-16): The Aggies are sky high after snapping their 32-game losing streak. They could win one or two at the Southfield Christian district, but know with the Cannon sisters, Mandy and Rachael. If they're loaded with ammunition.
Livonia Churchill (7-13): Coach Dave Van Wagoner has won district titles with this team. The Chargers drew a first-round bye and have already beaten Garden City. Stranger things have happened.
Redford Union (9-11): The Panthers have built a near .500 record playing a lot of games, but beating host Southfield in a first-round district game is a strong possibility. Winning the district is not.

Eagles fall in final

With just 2:14 left and the game tied at 74, St. Mary's College could sense an upset. Unfortunately, the Eagles lacked enough good sense to finish the job.

Not that their effort wasn't admirable. SMC won up against the sixth-ranked basketball team in the NAIA in St. Xavier (of Chicago), and the Eagles entered the fray without five of their top players.
So a loss could be anticipated. That's what SMC got in Saturday's Gino's Pizza Classic final at Dombrowski Fieldhouse, tumbling 86-79 to the Cougars after committing several costly turnovers down the stretch.
The outcome might have been different if the Eagles had played even further over their heads. "We just made some mistakes," said coach Glen Donahoe, who on Friday claimed his 500th career coaching victory in a 95-93 win over Aquinas College of Grand Rapids.
"We always fought back," he added. "But (the mistakes) finally caught up with us."

FIVE EAGLES reached double-figures in scoring, led by freshman guard Jeff Suspect's 15 points — which included hitting three-of-four three-pointers. Sophomore guard Denny Butcher added 14, junior forward James Lakes had 18 (and 12 rebounds), senior guard Jim Butler netted 12 and senior center Mike Moroney collected 11 (and nine boards).

St. Xavier, which ripped Madonna College 88-58 Friday to advance to the final, led 46-40 at the half before SMC fought back to force a tie. But in the final two minutes, Cougar guard Ken Griffin — who led all scorers with 28 points — made five-of-six free throws, and Dwayne Lee Upped in his only miss.

Lee and teammate Glenn Wood finished with 14 points apiece, while forward Otis Green — the tournament MVP (32 points, 27 rebounds in the two games) — added 11 points and 14 rebounds.

Joining Green on the all-tournament team were Terrance Bell of Madonna, Bryan Jacobs of Aquinas, Griffin of St. Xavier, and Jim and Denny Butcher (no relation) of SMC.

The Eagles play in the Hillsdale College Tip-Off Classic Friday and Saturday, with an opening game against Indiana-South Bend at 6 p.m. Friday.

Mercy bests arch-rival

Farmington Mercy's swim team celebrated Senior Night with a 93-30 victory over arch-rival Birmingham Marian in the winner's pool on Wednesday, Nov. 9.

The Marins capped their victory with the all-senior foursome of Cindy Grubb, Deirdre O'Rourke, Anne Lang and Jennie Olmstead winning the 400-yard freestyle relay (4:10.0).

Karen Neyer captured the 50 and 100 freestyles for Mercy, 6-2 in dual meets. She posted 35.22 and 55.33 times.

Neyer also anchored the winning medley relay team that included Katie Westhoff, Joan Heilmann and Liz DeMatia. The Marins recorded a 1:58.3 time.

Grubb also won the 500 freestyle (2:37.3) and DeMatia the butterfly (1:02.8).

Other Mercy victories were turned in by Bechli Wilguit in the 200 freestyle (1:01.0) and Katie Kalper in the breaststroke (1:10.59).

FARMINGTON HARRISON won the medley relay and three solo events Thursday while dropping a 109-82 contest to Northville in the Western Division finale for both teams.

The Hawks, 2-3 and 3-8 overall, won the relay in 2:09.1 with Kristy Kraus, Jill Murray, Meredith Perish and Michelle Doepker competing the team.

Perish also captured the breaststroke (1:31.4) and Murray the 500 freestyle (2:43.1). Harrison's Danielle King won the 200 freestyle in 2:23.3.
