Holiday swish

Holiday spirits go swish in this caftan with large poinsettia flower print in gold, red, green and white on a deep blue background. The V-neckline has gold trim. By Oscar de la Renta for Swirl. One size fits all. $100. Bobette Shop, 945 W. Huron, near Telegraph, Pontiac.

It's time to know this

No one really knows when Christmas Day was officially placed in late December, but it was probably done in the third century. The date was chosen by the church in Rome, the only center of Christianity at the time, and coincided with the ancient Roman celebration known as Saturnalia — a time for feasting and revelry and several other traditions marked by the exchange of gifts.
