Thursday, December 22, 1988 O&E

He records natural sound

staff writer

The sounds of the woods are sweet Muzak to Wayne Smith's ears.

So sweet that Smith, a Redford resident, taped them — the chirping of birds, the whispering of leaves, the rustling of deer hooves, the murmur of a creek — and convinced the Muzak muzic company to distribute the forest sounds nationwide.

The company says you'll be able to hear its new "Natural Sounds" format in office atria, outfilters and camping shops, florists and maybe even an elevator or two.

While the company doesn't expect the sounds of the birds and the bees to approach in sales the ubiquitous identist (and mexpaper) office background music that has made Muzak dramous — or infamous — It does expect Smith's format will do better than its "Susset Inspirational," which is what the Scattle-based company sells to funeral homes.

By DAY, Smith is a production

BY DAY, Smith is a production manager at WIR. He writes and produces station promos, writes a few postuces station promos, writes a few pommercials, and is responsible for the quality of all recorded materials at goes out over the airwayes from he tower of the Flather building.

In his spare time, be markets a com-Muzak version of this woods gounds, a business be plans to expand write a seashore version of crashing waves and blowing wind.

""I've always had an interest in nature, wondered if there was ording with the wood of the said Smith.

About three years ago, the idea fame to him: He and his wife, Kathy, who helped design some of his equipment, trooped off into the woods near Buffalo, N.Y., with 40 pounds of machinery and spent two weeks tap-ing some 35 hours of background noise.

noise. Then came the hard part: trying to convince Muzak that there was a market for such a thing, and that was the one to provide It. That was especially difficult since Jeff Ciffa, marketing director for the company, already had heard and rejected several similar proposals.

aiready had heard and rejected several similar proposals.

But CIfka was impressed.

"He is by far the best in the business at what he does. It was a good product," said Cifka, who signed Smith to a royality agreement based on the number of tapes Muzak distributes.

on the number of tapes Muzak dis-tributes.
Fewer than 100 clients have taken the four-hour tape Muzak began dis-tributing in September, "but ulti-nately it will be in the thousants," said Ginza.
The tape is a real-time silee of woods noise, said Smith, not a con-densed version of one sound pushed up against another. The way it hap-pened in New York is the way you hear it.

pend in New York is the way you hear it.

MUZAK DISTRIBUTES its five wide-appeal formats by satellite, and 3s more narrowly focused formats like Smith's by laps. The satellite versions include the elevator music we have come to know and love (or hate), (op-40, classical, newage comtemporary and soft rock.

The company has about 150,000 outsomers nationwide.

Of Smith's tape, citra said: "It's retty subtle. It's not up front at all."

Smith has talled with Cifra about all."

Smith has talked with Cifka about Muzak marketing his seashore tape, too, which was recorded at Point Pelee. Smith said be thought Muzak was interested.

Cifka went him one further. "I'm sure we'll release a seashore program, and we'll purchase it from Wayne."

Wayne Smith plans to expand his recordings with a seashore version of crashing waves and blowing wind when he's not on duty at WJR.

In the meantime, Smith sells a non-Muzak version of woods sounds, $10 for a one-hour cassette and $12 for compact disc. Write: Natural Sound, P.O. Box 40450, Redford 48240.

tion of whether I'll get my original investment back at this point. It (the deal with Muzak) is a meager arrangement," said Smith. "But if I can get people to appreciate nature, no matter how they're exposed to it—that means more to me than any profit."

Discounts for health services

By Mary Rodrique staff writer

Imagine getting health care enefits without an insurance company — no paperwork, no time consuming wait for reim-bursement — just up-front cash discounts for some basic medical bursement — just up-front cash discounts for some basic medical services.

That's the idea behind SuppleMed, a West Bloomfield company founded by two health care industry veterans.

SuppleMed is aimed at small employers who can't afford to pay comprehensive health benefits for their staffs. But anyone, including the self-employed and retirees, can join by paying the 400 annual membership feet. Additional membership fee the eye examination and contact lenses.

"The health care industry has always been directed at the larg-er employer," said Setton of Bir-mingham. "Smaller employers have stayed away from the been fits my program ofters because of the the stayed away from the been for the stayed away from the been for the stayed away from the beause of the stayed away from the stayed for Health Alliance Plan of Mich-igan and vice president of marketing for Medicost Services, a Southfield prescription drug pre-ferred provider organization, be-fore his solo venture.

ierred provider organization, before his solo venture.
His partner, Ronald Feinberg of Farmington Hills, held planning and development jobs for three local bealth maintenance organizations: Independence
Health Plan in Southfield, Health
Plus of Michigan and Michigan
HMO in Detroit.
"We have 25 years combined experience in the health care industry," said Sefton.
SuppleMed was conceived about six months ago. It has been in the marketplace less than three months.
Clients include Fantassic Same.

in the marketplace less than three months. Clients include Fantastic Sam's haircuttling franchise, Jax Car Wash and the Teamsters Union Health and Welfare Fund, which is offering the discount to re-tirees.

ttrees.

CareLinks, a senior citizen group affiliated with St. Joseph's Hospital in Pontias, is offering SuppleMed to 3,000 seniors. United Health Services in Detroit is considering it.

SuppleMed is already looking at expanding services. Bell Tone Hearing Centers has been added, offering discounts on hearing aids.

one health care specialist urged consumers to be more ag-gressive in questioning the cost of health care services. "It sounds like the Entertain-ment Book of medicine," said Franklin Elias, a Southfield-based health care consultant.

based health care consultant.
"My real concern is what is the real discount? It's not like walkline in a real-trained and seeling the prices on the mean, knowing you're paying sit 6 for one dimenand half price for the second," believe said. "Walking into a doctor's belsid. "Walking into a doctor's belsid. "Walking into a doctor's belfore in the mean of the first believe in the first mean of the first believe in the forest Blue Creater The Blue create Many levels of pricing.
"The set Routine with the page."

"I'm not familiar with the par-ticulars of this program. I don't know if it's good or bad."

BASM honors builders

John Scaccia, president of Polsi-helli-Scaccia Building Co. in Roches-ter Hills, has been named Builder of the Year by the Builders Association of Southeastern Michigan (BASM). Scaccia, who has been in the con-struction business since 1983, received the association's top honor Assiles this work at the exercite.

barlier this month at the organiza-tion's awards banquet at the Novi Hilton.

Hilton.

BASM has some 1,450 members, including suppliers, in Oakland, Wayne, Macomb and St. Clair counties.

Wayne, Macomb and a service to the association are: Rex Rosenbaux, corporate secretary of Uniland Construction in Farmington Hills, annead Young Builder of the Year, Frank "Bud" Dunford, contract sales manager for Whitpool Corp., named Associate Member of the Year, and Herbort Lawson Ion., Southfield, who received an award for service as president of the association in 1988.

Three builders were inducted into the association's Hall of Fame in recognition of exceptional leadership qualities and devotion to the building industry. They are Gilbert B. Silverman, chalrman of Holkman & Silverman, Farmington Hills; the late Bert L. Smokler, co-founder of the Smokler Co; and the late John D. Harrison, a former Birmingham contractor and past president of the association.

SCACCIA WAS born in Broccostelcontractor and past president of the association was been in Brocosstella, Italy, and moved to the Detroit area in 1934. He and his brother-in-law, Vittorio Polsinelli, Started a brick business in 1963 and eventually expanded into construction of single-family homes and subdivisions in Sterling Heights, Rochester Hills and Clinton and Macomb townships. Scaccia has been a member of BASM since 1974 and has been cochairperson for Homearam programs, during which builders showcase individual homes. He lives in Oakland Township.

grams, during which builders show-case individual homes. He lives in Oakland Township.

Richigan State University, has been with Unitand Construction for al-most 10 years, and has been involved in numerous phases of commercial and residential construction and building management.

He is currently working on 'sender independent living' projects that emphasize includual living accom-modations with common, or sharp facilities for dining, recreation and other group activities. He is a West

John Scaccia earned the Builder of the Year award.

Builder of the Year award.

Bloomfield resident.

Dunford received the Associate of the Year award, customartly given to the associate who provides "exemplary support" to the objective of the BASM and the housing industry. As contract sales manager, Dunford provides appliances for singlefamily and apartment construction.

Lawson and his wife, Carol, started Herbert Lawson Inc. more than 20 years ago, psecializing in office buildings, commercial development and multi-family dwellings. Today the company is known for condominiums and land development.

As president of BASH, Lawson of Brimingham was involved in numerous issues including labor negotiations with trade unloss. The properties of the University of Michigan. In 1968 he founded Village Green Management to operate residential income properties developed exclusively py Holtzman & Silverman.

Village Green operates 55 projects, containing some 14,000 apartment units in eight states, and manages some 500,000 square feet of commercial pace in office buildings and shopping centers.

commercial space in office disulpara and shopping centers.

Silverman is a past president and director of IRASM and a life director of the National Association of Home Builders. In 1983 he was appointed by Gov. James Blanchard to fill the Republican seat on the Michigan State Housing Development Authority.

A Southfield resident, he is also treasurer and a trustee of the Founders Society of the Detroit Institute of Arts.

SMOKLER, WHO graduated from the Detroit College of Law during the Depression, initially earned a liv-ing by collecting rest for a property management company.

He started building houses in the Detroit area in 1938, In 1946 he and his brother-in-law, Mandell "Bill" Berman, formed the Smokler Co.

Don't let parking costs pile up...park at Renaissance Center.

Now it's sillier than ever to let the price of parking stop you from enjoying the fun of shopping, dining and the movies at Renaissance Center. The chart shows you how inexpensive it can be.

So come to Renaissance Center. It only costs a little to enjoy a lot!

*These programs available for lots A & B. Enter from Beaubien Street east of Renaissance Center

Parking Programs	Days & Times	Note:
$1 for Three Hours for RenCen shoppers.*	Weekdays before 6 p.m.	Parking ticket must be validated by a RenCen retailer, and must accom- pany a tetail receipt of purchase from a RenCen shop.
$2 Evening rate.*	Weekdays after ti p.m.	Must exit lot by 6:30 a.m.
$2 Weekend rate.*	Weekends	Up to 12 hours of parking.
Free Valet Parking or self park Validation Program with purchase of dinner.	Any day after 6 p.m.	Parking ticket must be validated by one of these participating restaurants: Dionysos, Kyoto, Pcking Express and The Summit. Free valet parking at The Westin Hotel or self park in Jots A or B.
Theater Valida- tion Program.*	Any day after 6 p.m.	Free parking with $2 dis- count on theater ticket.

