

Sharing lands him with 3 top literary works

By LaVerne Griffin special writer

Paul Pearsall has enjoyed writing since his high school days. But, he admits, he had no idea his first book would be so successful that it would receive book of the year honors in England for its contributions to contemporary medicine.

After all, he'd only set out to share with others what he had learned from his clinical work.

Pearsall is the author of three best-selling books, "Super Immunity," his first literary endeavor, "Super Marital Sex," which landed him a spot on the "Oprah Winfrey Show," and his latest release, "Super Joy," an immediate best-seller.

Pearsall has a reason for using super in his titles. The emphasis isn't on better or stronger.

"I don't mean better or stronger, I mean to transcend or go beyond," he said. "I'm concerned people who may want to read my books might not because they think super means extraordinary."

"The intent of my three books is not so much how-to-do-it books, but maybe more how-not-to-do-it books."

Pearsall, 46, lives part time in Franklin and part time in Maui, Hawaii, with his wife of 23 years, Celeste, and their two sons, Roger, 17, and Scott, 16.

People often think of Pearsall as a mystery man. He isn't seen at many social functions.

Paul Pearsall celebrates life

ing and some of the stuff I saw when I ran the PDL (Problems of Daily Living) Clinic, it's a waste of precious time.

"WE DON'T take time to celebrate the important things in life anymore," Pearsall graduated from Fordson High School and earned his undergraduate degree from the University of Michigan at the age of 20. He tackled on a doctoral degree in education and clinical psychology from Wayne State University and had started the Problems of Daily Living Clinic at Sinai Hospital by age 26.

His commitment and dedication to excellence displayed during his childhood have continued throughout his adult life.

Pearsall isn't resting on his laurels after writing three best sellers. His future plans include a lecture series and Edu-Concert, a program that would combine his lectures with the music of the Four Tops.

Through Edu-Concert, Pearsall can spread the message of "Super Joy" to the sounds of the Four Tops while raising money for charity, he said.

And as Pearsall sees it, he will continue to be successful because success to him means to love other people and be loved by them.

'Super Joy' celebrates life

By LaVerne Griffin special writer

Every day, there should be an emotional celebration. We are so concerned and meditative about what life means that we forget to enjoy and celebrate the intensity of just being alive."

So says Paul Pearsall, author of the best selling book, "Super Joy" (Doubleday).

Most health care professionals study people who are sick and the effect the illnesses have on their lives. Pearsall's book, however, looks at health and daily life adjustments from a different perspective.

It studies people who are hardly ever sick. It explores how these super well, super healthy people think, behave, run their lives and deal with crisis. From their lessons, we learn how they approach life.

"It fascinated me that some people have a great deal of trouble in their lives and they seem enhanced by it," he said. "I interviewed a woman who was a survivor of the Holocaust and in spite of the most unimaginable horror that human beings have gone through, she wasn't sick and seemed to use that experience to strengthen her very spirit."

"I FOUND it interesting that some people succumb to a cold, are almost debilitated by it for weeks, whereas some people seem to flourish during a crisis."

Pearsall stresses throughout his book that the key to "Super Joy" is the celebration of life and living. He interviewed more than 300 people on their death beds and found that when asked if they had any regrets, the almost universal answer was that they would have taken more risks. They would have opted for a cheaper car, smaller house, less work and more time with their loved ones.

Pearsall's book suggests that being normal is dangerous to your health.

"We're always told to be well adjusted, but adjusted to what?" he said. "The mood, the morale, the pace... what I'm suggesting is the things we fit into today's world by definition makes us sick."

"We are addicted to being efficient oriented. Let's get it done faster; let's do it better. We don't take the time to see the celebration. We are so used to stress that when we go home or on vacation we get depressed."

"I CALL it the sad cycle. How hard you work during the day, how many things you accomplish, people applaud that. We reward the succumbing to the addiction of stress, and society says it's OK."

"Super Joy" appeals to the reader, whether he or she is 18 or 88, to view each day as the best time of their lives. Never lead your life saying later. Later may never come.

"I say in 'Super Joy' that if you should die with the music left in your soul, never having sung your song, it will be a very tragic event," Pearsall said.

Pearsall will be lecturing all over the world in the coming months, but he will be following his own advice. He will also be spending time at his home in Maui, Hawaii.

His new book, "Family Loving: The Miracle of Us," will be in book stores next year.

Please Help A Neighbor's Child In Need!

In Third World countries, hundreds of thousands of children are in desperate need of food, clothing, medical care—the basics of life. These girls and boys are even denied the opportunity to attend school.

They are our neighbors in a world that grows smaller every day.

Through CCF, you can sponsor a neighbor's child. The cost is $18 a month—just 60¢ a day—to help a poor child in Asia, Africa or Latin America—a child who has virtually nothing.

Please pick up your phone now and dial the toll-free number below. Be a good neighbor by helping an innocent child.
