

A queen's tea set

Queen Victoria was so delighted with the tea set when she saw it at the First World Exhibition in London in 1851 that she bought the first set. This one set and the reproduction of the Paul Revere bowl in sterling and pewter are at Lois Wright Inc., 238 S. Woodward, Birmingham. The tea set is made and hand painted in Hungary. The original of the bowl is in the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston.

Wind ensemble auditions set

Center for Creative Studies-Institute of Music and Dance is pleased to announce the formation of the IMD Wind Ensemble. It is open by audition to students 12 through adult.

A wind ensemble is a smaller version of the standard concert band, emphasizing musical independence (one-two players per part) and performing classical band and wind ensemble literature. The instrumentation consists of the flute, trumpet, oboe, trombone, bassoon, French horn, clarinet, euphonium, saxophones, tuba, and percussion.

Regular rehearsals for the Wind Ensemble will be from 6:30-8 p.m. Tuesdays.

The Wind Ensemble will be directed by Reginald Borik, chairman of IMD's wind department. Borik received his bachelor's and master's in saxophone performance from the University of Michigan and has held teaching positions at U-M, the Interlochen Center for the Arts and the Ecole de Musique in Talence, France.

In addition to the wind ensemble, the Institute offers private instruction, studio class and recital opportunities in a comprehensive music program. Dance instruction is also available. Instructors are performing artists/teachers. For information call the institute at 831-2870.
