

Dance Collective performs, teaches

Detroit Dance Collective will give its sixth annual Danceabout Series Tuesday-Thursday, Feb. 7-9, for 1,200 junior and senior high school students from the tri-county area.

Under the theme, "Dance and Dancemakers," the programs will include lecture demonstrations, dances designed especially for the students and excerpts from the company's touring repertoire. The programs will begin at 10 a.m. each day on the Oakland Community College Royal Oak campus.

In addition to the seven dancers and the unusual costumes, Modibo Keita, Detroit percussionist and faculty member at Marygrove College, will be part of the performances.

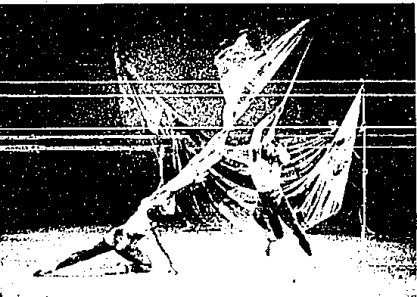

A "Conversation with the Artists" session will follow each concert. Over the three-day period, 300 students will remain on campus to take modern and jazz classes with Detroit Dance Collective.

THE COLLECTIVE will present two concerts at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday, Feb. 10 and 11, at the Lila Jones-Johnson Theater on the Oakland Community College Royal Oak campus.

The concerts will feature works by Barbara Selinger and Paul Kramer, artistic directors. Kramer's dance is a quartet for women, "Time of Solitude," set to music by Joseph LoDuca, composer/musician.

The work was inspired by the book, "One Hundred Years of Solitude," by Gabriel Garcia-Marquez, Nobel Prize winner. The score was commissioned through a grant from the Arts Foundation of Michigan.

This conference, which will involve a variety of groups, regional arts councils and dance medicine specialists, will be held June 9-10. For information on any of these programs, call 548-9664.

Detroit Dance Collective's Ensemble is shown in "Requiem for the Star-Tamer" with choreography by Barbara Selinger. It is on the programs for Feb. 10 and 11, on the Royal Oak campus of Oakland Community College.

save energy

Treat your family to more cookouts. Not only are they fun, they use less energy and keep the heat outside the house. Cookouts use fewer dishes, too.

YOU CAN save lots of water when you wash dishes with an electric washer. Before using make sure you have a full load rather than washing just a few dishes at a time. You can have plenty of storage space when you sell old items with an Gibbs & Electric Classified Ad.
