one of Canton's misses, but the Hawks missed three ensuing 1-and-1 chances and gave the Chiefs other opportunities with frontcourt turn-chances and gave the Chiefs other opportunities with irrestroute turnovers.

Canton, however, didn't take advantage as evidenced by its shooting. Its latt chance, with three seconds left, was crased by a traveling call. A defender jumped in front of Geoff Allen as he went up to shoot, causing him to abort the attempt.

"It reminded me of a decodorant commercial," said Teachman of the final quarter. "Which one was going to last Right Geard or Ban?
"As trite as it sounds, winning the last quarter 5-0, it was defense that did it for us."
"There was not a lot of offense out there," he understated. "Canton has a lot of role players they can throw at you to make fouls. They're going to keep doing that if you're not going to make the free throws."

HARRISON MISSED its first seven shots of the game, but Burgees and Marcus Mack got the transition game going and the Hawks led 15-11 after one quarter. But the Chiefs scored the last 10 points of the half — Paupore getting six — to put Canton on top 35-22 at halfitum. Waldron also scored 13 points for the Chiefs. Coleman and Mack added six apiece for Harrison, and Burgees led with eight rebounds. Teachman said the was satisfied with the play of Karbowski. "When you put a guy in that situation, you don't expect spectacular things," he said. "You expect concrete, right things at the right time kinda stuff. They didn't get too many inside shots in the last 10-12 minutes."
