Ex-Lion calls cage shots

HIS FONDEST MEMORIES were with the Llons, particularly the 1962 season when Detroit went 11-3. But what most Lon fans remember about that season was the gailing $-7 loss to the first-place Green Bay Packers, it cost Detroit a berth in the NFL champion-thic.

Packers, It cost between a because the ship.

Ahead late in the game, all Detroit had to do was sit on the ball, but quarterback Milt Plum was intercepted. The Packers took advantage of the mistake and pulled out a come-from-behind win.

The Fackers took average.

The fackers took average out a come-from-behind win.

Lion fans and the media still ridicule Plum's decision to this day.

"I still think about that game, it still bothers me."

Whitlow said. "People blame Milt, but he put the ball right in there. People don't remember Terry Barr (the receives kinding.

"We had a good football team. We won 11 games, but we didn't win the division. It was a close-kmit team." Nicknamed "Barney Rubble," Whitlow was part of a wild Lions bunch that also included Alex Karnas. ("Dan LaRose, the old Missouri tight end was Fred Flintstone," says Whitlow. "We were the Flintstones.")

Did he ever think Karnas would become a Hollywood actor?

Due to ever times more wood, and he always actor?

"He was always clowning around, and he always thought he was funny," Whittow said. "I told him once he ought to be on TV because he was always good for laughs as an after-dinner speaker."

WHITLOW ALSO had a flare for the dramatic, a

WHITLOW EVENTUALLY settled down in sales, first in the steel business before going on to his current job with an air freight company at Pontiae-Oakland Airport, (He is also a licensed pilot.)

As for his basketball career, Whitlow started at the bottom, caaching a sixth-grade elementary school team, a JV team, summer AAU teams and at OCC where be was an assistant under Lynn Reed.

"I have a decent basketball background," he said.
"I've coached a lot of games and worked at Knight's cames."

whithout is close with Indiana's Bob Knight, who, he says, "is real alice to me."

Ye are go there (Bloomington) any time I want," "I can go there (Bloomington) any time I want," Whittow said. "Their staff has helped me and any time they're recruiting somebody, I try and help them out."

A la Knight, Whittow believes in the passing game. He also believes in tough, hard-nosed man-to-man defense. "We're not playing any defense right now," said Whittow, whose team nearly gave up 100 points the other night to Schooleraft. "It's embarrassing. We just don't guard anybody."

strikes, it may bring out the best in you.

This advice applies to watching he pros on TV as well. This is not to say you should try to copy someone else, however good form usually brings about good scores. Watching good form can help your game whether it is bowling, golf, tennis and all sorts of athletic endeavors.

Example: Last week, my opponent Charlie was throwing a lot of strikes and I noticed he used a short backwing. I shortened up on my backwing, I shortened up on my backwing and immediately started to carry more strikes. Thanks, Charlie!
