

Talented programmer moving on

How fortunate we have been to share in the beginning career of John Enright.

A resident of Novi, he has been a television production specialist for the Southwestern Oakland Cable Commission. His area of concentration was to produce programming for the city of Farmington.

A national television production company has snatched him up. He is beginning the world of television travel this week.

He began as a summer intern from Central Michigan in 1986, along with several other interns. He originated the "Tri-Outlet News" format.

His accomplishments are many. However, he is best known for the following productions:

- Neighborhood Watch: It Works
 - Michigan Special Olympics: A Documentary
 - Farmington Focus (Series)
 - Family Story Hour (Programming for Deaf Children)
 - Summer Teen Workshop Instructor (with Donnell Conway)
 - Farmington City Promo
- Residents who had the privilege of working with John will share my sentiment that he was professional and became one of the family.
- We are proud of you, John, and can't wait to receive postcards of your escapades throughout the country.

Scout wins Derby race

Kenbrook third grader Todd McSwain took first place in the 1989 Pinewood Derby sponsored by Cub Scout Pack 263, Clinton Valley Council.

All are students at Kenbrook Elementary School in Farmington Hills.

After designing, building and painting his own miniature race car, Todd raced against fellow Cub Scouts on a raised wooden track during their January pack meeting.

Cub Scout Pack 263 celebrates its 20th year in scouting this year and will celebrate the event at a special Blue and Gold Banquet Feb. 27 at the school.

Taking second place was Brian Raffallo with Justin Anton coming in

Lung Association seeks camp volunteers

Summer camp is a great American tradition and the American Lung Association of Southeast Michigan (ALASEM) need volunteers to help maintain that tradition for 70 Michigan boys and girls with severe asthma.

This summer you can enrich your life and the life of an asthmatic child by volunteering to spend a week at Camp Sun Deer.

Camp Sun Deer provides a traditional outdoor camp setting for asthmatic children, ages nine through 12, who are normally restricted to a life indoors, in a controlled atmosphere.

"Sun Deer" campers participate in a variety of activities (swimming, archery, fishing, hiking and more) and are closely monitored by expert health care professionals from a variety of disciplines.

Volunteers who attend camp gain a variety of personal and professional experiences; this program offers training in most aspects of asthma management.

FOR STUDENTS and professionals interested in respiratory problems, allergies, pediatrics and recreational therapy, attending camp will provide opportunities to experience "first-hand" the problems that young asthma sufferers encounter daily.

Staff volunteers are needed for the period Sunday, June 25 to Saturday, July 1 at the Battle Creek Outdoor Education Center. Camp Sun Deer is 10 miles north of Battle Creek in Dowling. The center encompasses 144 acres of wooded land on Clear Lake.

The following staff positions need to be filled: physicians, nurses, pharmacists, recreational therapists, respiratory therapists, waterfront instructors, patrol leader, activities leader, and an enthusiastic, loving support crew.

For more details about how you can enrich a severely asthmatic child's life, call Sharon Hefner at the Lung Association, 559-5100, 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays.
