Frank Lohan doesn't have a lot of time to get out the acrylics and easel, but when he does, he's proud of the accomplishment.

year tour in the U.S. Air Force. The couple raised their two children in Farmington Hills where they have lived since 1980.
Lohan suspects that one of his most widely known pieces of pen and ink sketching is that of the Farmington Community Center. He had several hundred reproductions of the work made up and gave it to the center for use in a fund-raising activity.

Lohan is an active member of Farmington Artists Club and served as its president from 1979-81.

— Emily McSweeney

RANDY BORST/staff photographer

She is a longtime member of the little theater group who has worked both on stage and backstage.
Right now she is in rehearsal for "Seascape," the Edward Albee play produced by Oakland Community College's Smith Theater.
She is married to Robert McSweeney and is mother to five children.
Area residents can meet McSweeney when Farmington Area Arts Commission hosts a reception for her and Frank Lohan, recipient of this year's Artist-in-Residence Award. The reception runs from 1-3 p.m. Sunday, April 9 in Farmington Community Center, 24705 Farmington Road. There is no charge.

Acting ability and a desire to work in the health care profession were merged by Emily McSweeney to bring her to the job she calls 'a real joy.'

Cherry Queen sought

Young women, ages 18-25, are invited to enter 1989 National Cherry Queen competition. Applications are now available.

The National Cherry Queen reigns over the National Cherry Festival in Traverse City and serves as a representative of the Michigan Cherry Industry.

During her one-year reign she will visit other nationwide festivals, cherry promotions and functions across the country.

She will also receive a $1,500 scholarship, an extensive wardrobe and a variety of other gifts.

A candidate must be a high school graduate by June 1989, a resident of Michigan, and sponsored by an organization within the state.

The panel of judges will give consideration to qualities including intelligence, personality, poise, beauty and communication skills.

Preliminary competition will be June 22-24 in Traverse City.

Five finalists will participate in the 1989 National Cherry Festival, July 9-15. The queen will be crowned at a coronation celebration at the Grand Traverse Resort Friday, July 14.

Candidates are encouraged to register by June 1. A registration fee of $100 will be required of each candidate.

For more information, applications and competition rules contact: National Cherry Festival, 108 W. Grandview Parkway, P.O. Box 141, Traverse City 49885.
