

Gorman's hosts benefit

Gorman's Gallery will sponsor "Dream Makers II," an evening of psychics and celebrity games to benefit Children's Hospital of Michigan 7-10 p.m. Thursday, May 18, at Gorman's Southfield store, 12 Mile and Telegraph, Southfield.

The goal is to raise $50,000 to buy a Cemax unit for the hospital. This is a computer system that provides 3D pictures of bones, tissues and fluids for physicians and surgeons.

Local celebrities will be playing "Win, Win & Draw," a version of the TV sketch pad charades game. Three years ago Gorman's hosted a similar event and raised $60,000 for the cavitron, an instrument to remove previously inoperable tumors.

For ticket information, call Diana Kohler of Children's Hospital, 745-5375.

Bernie Moray, Gorman's owner and president, said the excellent medical care his granddaughter received at Children's led to his commitment to assist the hospital whenever possible.

Solo dance concert slated

Connie Aiken Moore of Franklin, dancer and choreographer, will present her first full-length solo dance concert at 8 p.m. Friday in the Wayne State University Lecture Theater in the General Lectures Building. The concert, titled "Private Showing," will be six solo dance works by Moore. Featured will be original works for piano composed and performed by Stephanie Kosarin of Ann Arbor. For reservations and information, call 626-7004. Moore, who has a master's in dance and choreography from U.C.L.A., plans to tour with her solo concert in the fall.
