

Most events are free at Kids Day

Kids can share in the fun of the Star-Spangled Southfield Festival with a day chock full of activities set aside just for them from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Friday, June 30, on the civic center grounds, 26000 Evergreen.

In case of rain, the events will be moved inside the civic center arena.

Most of the events during Kids Day are free. They include face painting, carnival games and balloons. A mini-Grand Prix, with course decorated appropriately for Big Wheels, also is in the running.

Other events include a bicycle rodeo run by the Optimists and a disc jockey playing records.

TO EXERCISE off some excess energy, there will be a pitching machine and basketball hoop. And for the younger set, Berkley's Gymboree is setting up a fun area that includes tumbling mats.

The frog master, complete with jumping contests, a juggler and a mime also will make appearances during the day.

Free for the watching will be performances on the city's mobile stage by a magician, Mr. Trix, and by Rosco the Clown who performs at noon and 3 p.m. Mr. Trix starts off at 10 a.m. and then reappears throughout the day at 10:45 a.m., 11:30 a.m., 1:30 p.m., 2:30 p.m. and 3:30 p.m.

Police, fire and emergency medical service vehicles also will be on display.

The Hillsdale Veterinary Hospital, 29625 Northwestern Highway, is organizing a pet show at noon on the civic center grounds. Registration forms are available at the parks and recreation main desk and at the veterinary clinic.

CATEGORIES ARE best dressed pet and owner, best presentation of caged pet, pet with waggiest tail, most unusual pet, best trained, most articulate, shaggiest pet and largest pet. Trophies for first, second and third places will be awarded in each category.

Children up to age 16 may enter the contests, but whatever age, they must be able to handle their pets in the ring without parents' help.

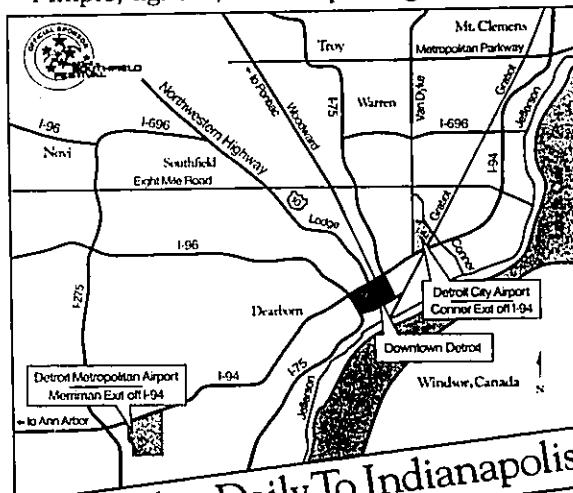

Several events will carry fees.

The Franzen Brothers Circus will perform at 2 p.m. on the civic center grounds. For ticket information, call the 24-hour hot line at 354-9358.

Refreshments will be available throughout the day.
