Center marks 20th year

Editor's note: For 20 years the doors of The Community Center have kept open through the work of men and women who volunteer to serve as its directors. The Farmington Observer introduces the members of the 1989 board to readers as part of the center's 20th anniversary year observance.

David May

David May is spending his second year as a member of the board of directors of The Community Center Farmington-Farmington Hills as board treasurer and finance committee member. A certified public accountant, his professional expertise is vital to insuring the financial stability of the center. He hopes that the center will serve the dual purpose as the area's cultural hub and become a popular business rental facility. An eight year resident of Farmington Hills, he and his wife Nancy are great fans of the center's musical programs. Their three children have enjoyed summer camps and the center's special events.

His other activities include participation on the board of the Y.M.C.A. Camping Service and the Auditing Committee at Nardin Park Church.

HEEL PAIN
Movement focuses on taking a step. If the heel striking ground causes pain, then ambulation turns to disability.
Only rarely is the discomfort caused by heel spurs. These spurs, which occur in many people who have no complaint of painful walking, represent calcification of the tendons that anchor into the bone of the heel.
In most cases, heel pain is the result of past injury to the sheet of tissue just under the thick skin of the sole. This injury often occurred in the forgotten past, and is activated by an otherwise trivial twist of the foot. X-rays show little, as the bones of the foot are not involved.
Treatment by injection into the heel requires finding the exact site of injury; such precision is difficult to achieve. No medication by mouth has proved consistently effective, nor is operation usually in order. The trauma it causes often is greater than the original insult that began the pain.
Usually heel pain clears with time, heat, and rest. It is best to wait before turning to other measures, as they may interfere with nature's way of healing.

For Junior Athletes only.
