AREA RESIDENTS were exposed to snowmobiling, the fastest growing winter sports event in North America, last weekend at Northville Downs when 500 of the nation's top drivers competed for $50,300 in prize money. And the more than 24,000 who turned out for the three-day event loved every minute of it. There were thrills, spills (at extreme right) and chills. Observer Photographer Harry Mauthe caught this action. Note the ones who couldn't get inside the grounds and climbed a nearby tree to see the action.
