year term on the board was John Burke, a local attorney. Bill Flattery, of First Federal Savings, was picked as secretary-treasurer in addition to receiving another two-year slot on the board.

ALSO ELECTED to two-year terms on the board were: Ed Balden of the Farmington Center Co.; John Courville, of the Ebenezer Shop; Ed Lane, of the Panosonic Company; and Alan Warner of the Farmington Holding Co.

Picked to serve one-year terms were: Ray Lyons, of the Lorne Company; Philip Power, publisher of the Farmington Enterprise & Observer; and Tom Zoedes, architect.

The Thursday board meeting saw outgoing Chamber president George Ray turn his gavel over to Anhut, who runs the Botsford Inn. Other board members attending their last meeting were Bill Conroy, of the Farmington Insurance Agency and Fred Scott, of Steelcrete.

The board thanked outgoing members for their service, and expressed particular appreciation to Bill Patterson, of National Bank of Detroit, who has served the board as secretary-treasurer during the past years.

Remaining on the board with unexpired terms are: Bill Bowman, of Thompson-Brown; Ralph Evert, of Evert Photographic Studio; and outgoing president Ray, of Ray Interiors.

IN HIS SPEECH to the over 50 members and their wives, Brickley described his experiences in getting the State Senate organized that very day.

He characterized the objectives of the administration of Gov. William Milliken

More reports coming in on what folks were up to during the holidays. Finlance, the Paul Payton family of Quail Hollow flew to Kansas to be with their daughter and family. The folks had a slight accident but Mr. Payton is doing fine.

The Cass Marowski family of Green Willow had themselves a ball. First they motored to Florida visiting various spots and stayed at Pompano Beach at the Light-house Cave Resort, then a cruise to the Bahamas and stayed at the Bahama International Hotel. Another highlight of their trip was a trip to Freepoint Island. Please forgive us for the typographical error on the Bill Havel family in the last issue.

FOLKS GET many unusual presents but Jay Lawrence who is just seven and lives on New Castle was very lucky because he received a new coat and called her "Candy Cane." Very appropriate, you'll agree.

Have you lost faith in humanity? Don't ever do that. Here's what happened last Wednesday to one gal who was too busy to put away her money immediately after going to the bank at a drive-in window. Next stop was the Community Center at which time while walking into the building this lady just stuffed the money into her purse.

It wasn't until after a few hours she realized her money (a twenty) was missing. Recalling her stop she called the Community Center to

Will Discuss Senior Housing

FARMINGTON
The director of the Livonia Housing Commission will be the guest speaker for the Farmington-Township Road & Civic Association on Jan. 19 at 8 p.m. in Power Junior High.

Charles Cook is presently directing the completion of a second 8-unit building with low income rentals for senior citizens. Livonia's senior citizen apartments are located at Furlingbrook and St. Martins adjacent to the Livonia Mall. The second building will be ready for occupancy in April.
