How can a person be cheerful at four in the morning? It's hard to say, but somehow Colleen Bucar manages to be. The Bloomfield Hills resident is making a name for herself at WKQF radio where she's the public affairs director. And despite her success, she admits there's really nothing all that glammous about broadcast news. See Page 19.

A bit of Paradise in the U.P.

Contributing travel editor

I am sitting at breakfast at the Little Falls Restaurant, looking down the road into Paradise. The endy time I ever hear of this little town is when a television weather-caster gets bored on a cold, cold winter's night and says "and it's cold in Paradise today."

Paradise is in the eastern Upper Peninavia I z miles south of White-fish Polat, the last finger of land that guards the bay north of the Soo Locks, Pass It and you're in the open waters of Lake Superior.

The town is only a block or two long on M 123, starting here at the Cedar Lodge, run by Jim and Shirley Stabile, at the south end of town, and wandering past rusting gift shops, restaurants, grocery stores and balt and tackle shops to Curley's Molet, run by Bill Ferguson at the other end of town.

Starting the street in what still locks and and W root beer place.

Paradise is a popular little tour-ist town summer and winter, but it seems to be the snowmobile capital of the world from New Year's Day through March. They get 400 inches of snow here in this corner of land warmed on three sides by the lake and they are totally surrounded by state and national forests, so it's a winter heaven for snowmo-bilers.

There are plenty of riverside trails at Tahquamenon State Park near Paradiso. And it's a wonderful live-minute drive by car from the Upper to the Lower Falls.

Jim Stabile tells me that the Paradise Chamber of Commerce groomed the first snowmobile trails in Michigan in the early 1979, Whitelish Township now has 250 miles of the most lovingly groomed cross-country ski trails in the UP and keeps three snow-grooming machines working full time in season.

SNOWMOBILERS are so wel-come here that they ride right on the roads along with the cars. The are so plentful that they fill rooms as far away as St. Ignace, so re-serve early.

If you drive or snowmobile
through the Paradise area you could easily believe that there is nothing here except a wondrous apread of treed wildeness, buttury ago and the whole history of the Great Lakes is tucked away among hese forests and waterways.

French explorers Radisson and Groseilliers apent 18 months in the Great Lakes area in the 17th centory and in 1660 took 50 cances full of fur pelts back to Montreal, many of them beaver akins from what is now Whitefish Township.
